Proposals for Saving Winnipeg From Bankruptcy

Goldenberg Commission Says Railways Should Pay More

No City Manager

WINNIPEG (CP)—As steps toward eliminating Winnipeg's $1,000,000 deficit, the Goldenberg Royal Commission report recommends opening of new revenue sources, additional contributions from the two main railways, but warns on proposals for the city manager form of administration.

The report, tabled in the Manitoba Legislature this afternoon, was the result of a study of civic finances by a commission headed by H. Carl Goldenberg, Montreal authority on municipal government.

In rejecting city manager proposals, the report declares the commission found reforms accomplished in other areas by this form of civic government had been in operation in Winnipeg for some time.

Large tax exemptions granted the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways came under review with the report questioning an agreement entered into in 1931 with the C.P.R. regarding sums to be paid the city. It is unfair, the report says, for Winnipeg taxpayers to carry the burden of caring for railway employees when they are forced on relief by temporary layoffs and, therefore, recommends steps toward collecting more revenue from the railways.

NEW TAXES OPPOSED
The report urges the city's annual sinking fund instalment of approximately $1,300,000 be transferred to ordinary budget purposes whereby the civic budget would be balanced and no new taxes required. Transfer of sinking fund instalments would be made through establishment of a fund to be called the debt redemption equalization fund.

Under this idea, interest could be paid on civic debts in full each year, the report says.

The commission favors increase in the mill rate in view of "substantial declines recently in the city's assessment." Assessment dropped by nearly $50,000 since 1931.

Avenues of increased revenue charted by the commission include:

Increase of 20 per cent from 14½ per cent of the business tax rate on T. Eaton Co. Ltd. and the Hudson's Bay Co. department stores.

Pledge of Defence

VANCOUVER (CP)—A pledge to fight for Canada and democracy "with our lives if necessary" was given by more than 200 Vancouver Ukrainians who met last night to protest seizure of Carpatho-Ukraine by Hungary.

Resolutions pledging armed support to Canada and urging the Dominion government to impose an embargo on the export of war materials to aggressor nations were passed by the meeting.

French President Honored By City of London

Lebrun Cheered In Streets On Way to Guild Hall Luncheon

Ministers Attend

LONDON (CP)—As Albert Lebrun and Mme. Lebrun as they drove to the Guildhall today to lunch with the Lord Mayor of London, Prime Minister Chamberlain and members of the cabinet.

Troops stood stiffly at attention as the President's party passed and nearly 10,000 persons packed the streets to catch a glimpse of the president and his wife. Life Guards resplendent in brass helmets and scarlet uniforms led the procession.

The ancient Guildhall was decked with French and British flags. An immense red and white carpet was laid in the court of honor.

The President was welcomed by Sir Frank Bowater, the Lord Mayor, and led to the banquet hall, where 800 guests awaited his arrival. The Royal Artillery orchestra played the Marseillaise as he entered.

Among the guests were the Duke and Duchess of Kent, Prime Minister Chamberlain, Sir John Simon, Viscount Halifax, Sir John Anderson, Lord Chatfield, Leslie Hore-Belisha, Earl de La Warr, Sir Kingsley Wood, Walter Elliott and Leslie Burgin.

SAFETY MOVES ON SWEEP TICKETS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Harold Marshall, 20-year-old Lulu Island truck driver who holds an Irish Hospital Sweepstakes ticket on Underbid in the Grand National Steeplechase, will probably sell half interest to a New York syndicate for $4,070, his father, John Henry Marshall, said today.

BELLELEVILLE, Ont. (CP)—"A bird in the hand is worth two of a horse going over a fence," says Fred Ritchie worker in the Cordova mines of north Hastings County.

So yesterday he accepted the offer of $4,070 by a New York syndicate for a half-share in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes ticket he holds on Underbid, a 22-to-1 shot in Friday's Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree.

If Underbid comes home in front, bringing him a half-share of the $150,000 first prize, Ritchie will build a "little home out here and enjoy life hunting and fishing."

2 Executed at Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Two convicted traitors died today on the guillotine—Johannes Mikolajewski, 48, and his son, Fritz, 22, who were condemned November 30 for revealing German defence secrets to an unidentified foreign secret service agent.

Their deaths brought the total of 1939 executions to 14.

Magna Charta Travels

LONDON (CP)—An original copy of England's historic Magna Charta has been insured for $100,000 ($470,000) prior to its shipment to New York for display at the World's Fair, it was announced today. The document will be transported from Lincoln Cathedral to New York in a special casket.

WPA INQUIRY IN U.S. PROPOSED

House Committee Passes Motion, But Government Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States House of Representatives today directed the appropriations committee to make a "thorough investigation" of the Works Progress Administration.

The administration is the government agency handling numerous works projects to provide work and wages for unemployed.

The measure contains no reference to the particular points the inquiry should touch on, and merely says the appropriations committee "shall report to the house as soon as practicable during the present Congress the results of its investigations, together with such recommendations as it deems desirable."

Backers of the resolution, which requires only House approval, said administration leaders were opposed to it.

Four Camps On West Coast Road

Winter Relief Projects To Close Third Week in April

Considerable progress on construction of the West Coast Road has been made by public works camps for single unemployed men operated during this winter, the unemployment relief department said today.

Four camps of 450 men have been working on the project, all part of the main Otter Point camp.

The crew at the advance camp at Lady Rosamond Creek, now closed, has been engaged in clearing and preparing the way for pushing the road ahead. At Phillips Creek some improvements were made and preparations made for a bridge. Bridge abutments were also built at Sandstone Creek. Around the main Otter Point camp repairs have been carried out.

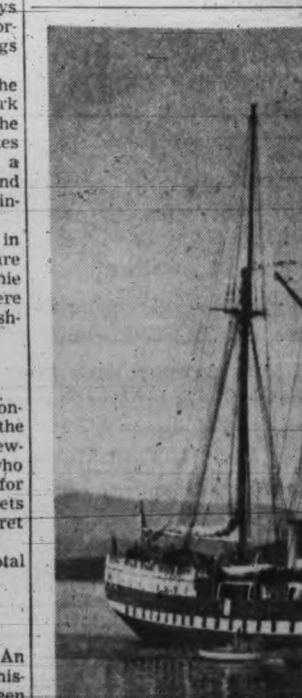

A fifth camp crew stemming from the Otter Point project has constructed a new warehouse for the government at Langford. Winter work on the road will cease toward the end of next month. The relief department announced today the general date for closing of 18 forestry and 7 public works camps for the unemployed is the third week in April.

Some camps may close earlier, others a little later, depending when the occupants have worked long enough to get the necessary credits for their deferred pay. Deferred pay allowances will be paid this year until May 30 when relief for single unemployed will cease and they will be expected to rustle summer jobs for themselves.

This winter the government has placed 4,300 single unemployed in camps, a reduction of 400 from last year, despite an increase in the general relief rolls. The decrease is believed largely due to restrictions placed on relief for transients coming west.

LUXURY YACHT ATTRACTS CROWDS—After an overnight visit to Victoria the auxiliary schooner-rigged yacht Fantome, with its owner, Hon. A. E. Guinness and a party of guests aboard, left at 10 this morning for Vancouver. The picture shows the Fantome as she was berthing yesterday. Attracted by the magnificence of this unusual type of pleasure craft large crowds of sightseers visited the Ogden Point docks yesterday afternoon and this morning.

Roumania Signs Nazi Trade Pact; Freedom Kept

Officials Jubilant Political Integrity Not Surrendered

No Monopoly Given

BUCHAREST, Roumania (AP)—Germany and Roumania signed a trade treaty this afternoon. Roumanian officials jubilantly announced the country's "political and economic independence" had been preserved under the terms of the treaty. Details were not announced.

The agreement, negotiation of which was a major factor in the "Roumanian crisis" which disturbed Europe last week-end, was completed and signed by Dr. Helmuth Wohlthat, head of a German trade mission, and Jan Dujolu, Roumanian minister of national economy.

NO MONOPOLY GIVEN
Roumanians said Germany was not given monopolistic economic concessions, which she was reported to have asked previously.

The "open door" to purchasers of the whole world remains open, one official commented. Germany gave no special pledge to respect Roumanian frontiers and negotiators said the subject had not been discussed.

At the same time they reiterated no German ultimatum had been presented and no political pressure applied to gain special advantages.

MOTOR LICENSES HIT NEW HIGH

During 1938 117,351 Vehicles Operated On British Columbia Highways

During the 1938 motor license year 2,823 more motor vehicles were licensed to operate on British Columbia highways than during 1937, according to the statistical report just completed by the B.C. police motor record office.

To the end of February this year, which marked the end of the 1938 license year, there was a total of 117,351 licenses issued, while for 1937 the total was 114,528. The 1938 figure sets an all-time high for the province.

Included in last year's total were 94,346 licenses issued for passenger machines, and 23,005 for commercial vehicles.

There were 56 more motor-cycles last year, the total being 1,869.

During February this year there was an increase in the number of 1939 licenses issued, as compared with those issued last February. The total of 735 was only 32 ahead of February, 1938, however.

Germany Wants To Establish Air Bases in Iceland

Premier Says Rights Not Accorded Others Can't Be Given Reich

Claim Under Treaty

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (CP)—Germany has asked the right to establish air bases on Iceland territory, Premier Hermann Jonasson informed the Althing (Parliament) today.

Premier Jonasson said Germany had invoked old treaties, declaring the most-favored-nation clause entitled it to build air bases on the island.

KING CHRISTIAN X

He declared Iceland could not grant Germany rights not accorded to any other nation, and said the issue would be taken up when the German cruiser Emden comes here for a scheduled visit.

Iceland is a sovereign state associated with Denmark through their allegiance to a common crown, King Christian X ruling both countries. It was originally independent and then for seven centuries remained under Norwegian and Danish rule until 1918, when it received its present status.

DISTANCES

Iceland's coast is 542 miles from the north coast of Scotland and a little over 1,000 miles from London. It is 1,500 miles from the coast of Labrador.

The coastline of Iceland is 3,730 miles long. Owing to the rigors of its climate, only about one-quarter of its 40,437 square miles is inhabited by its population, which totals a little more than 100,000.

It was in 1918 that Denmark recognized Iceland as a sovereign state, united with it under the rule of the Danish king. The legislative power rests with the Althing, oldest parliamentary assembly in the world, having existed for more than 1,000 years. The Althing has 14 members in the Upper House and 28 in the Lower House.

Hitler Voyages to Take Over Surrendered Memel

European Bulletins

Britain Rearms Colonies

LONDON—Great Britain is strengthening her colonial military forces for the first time since the World War as a result of German expansion, the House of Commons was advised today.

by Colonial Secretary Malcolm MacDonald.

"As German subjects outnumber British in the British Cameroons," he said, "the government is also considering increasing the police forces there."

Danish Nazis Warned

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Premier Thovald Stauning declared today the Danish Nazi leader, Fritz Clausen, had used expressions "which must be regarded as an appeal to Germany to deal with Denmark in the same manner that she dealt with Czechoslovakia."

The Fascist Grand Council, Premier Mussolini's cabinet, issued a strong statement after discussion of the consequences of Chancellor Hitler's push eastward.

Italy Strong for Axis

ROME (AP)—Italy, in effect, declared the democratic powers today that joint action to check the Rome-Berlin alliance might incur the risk of war.

The Fascist Grand Council, Premier Mussolini's cabinet, issued a strong statement after discussion of the consequences of Chancellor Hitler's push eastward.

French-Italian Talks

PARIS (AP)—A French friend of Premier Mussolini who knew him when they both were Socialists, came from Rome today on a secret mission, arousing reports that conversations were underway for a French-Italian reconciliation.

Hubert Lagardelle, a writer who has maintained his old personal friendship with Il Duce, arrived on the Rome-Paris express today.

Friends of Lagardelle indicated he might carry proposals for settlement of the French-Italian quarrel back from Mussolini.

The French ambassador at Rome, Andre Francois-Poncet, was reported to have communicated to Paris a belief that Italy would agree to negotiations with France if early overtures were made.

Balkan Troop Moves Eased

BUCHAREST (AP)—Premier Armand Calinescu immediately after signing of a trade treaty between Germany and Roumania this afternoon issued a statement in which he said: "Concentrations of troops along Roumania's frontiers might be canceled within '10 or 15 days.'"

The Premier said he expected the international situation "to be clarified."

It was understood he based his statement on reports both Hungary and Bulgaria, neighbors from whom Roumania won territory in the World War, had slowed up military activity along Roumania's frontiers.

Britain In Staff Parleys

LONDON (AP)—The government whip, Patrick Munro, disclosed in the House of Commons today Great Britain is conducting military staff talks, through military attaches, with France, Soviet Russia, Denmark, Sweden, Yugoslavia, Roumania, Turkey, Greece and the Netherlands.

Mr. Munro answered "No" to a question from Josiah Wedgwood, Labor, whether "economic and military staff talks will be initiated with the United States concerning supply they could make to this country and our allies in case of war being forced upon us."

Mr. Wedgwood followed with a further question.

"May I ask whether this also is an example of the inability of the government to face the situation, and may I ask why no arrangements are being come to with America in connection with supplies for the next war?"

Mr. Munro replied: "That is another question."

Italy to Mass 25,000 Airmen

ROME—Total of 18,000 Italian air pilots have been ordered to report in Rome next Tuesday to celebrate Aviation Day.

Also, 7,000 student pilots will attend the gathering to be reviewed by Mussolini as air minister.

Triumphal Entry Into Baltic Port On Warship Tomorrow

Force Threatened

SWINEMUEDE, Germany (AP)—Adolf Hitler, headed for Memel and Baltic acclaim, embarked on the battleship Deutschland tonight from this north German port.

The exact time of his embarkation was not disclosed, but the official announcement of it was issued at 7:20 p.m. (10:20 a.m. P.S.T.).

The Fuehrer is expected to reach Memel, his latest acquisition, about noon (3 a.m. P.S.T.) tomorrow.

Reports which officials would neither confirm nor deny said German troops, moving from Tilsit, East Prussia, would enter Memel at 5 a.m. (8 p.m. Wednesday, P.S.T.) tomorrow.

(By traveling by sea Hitler avoided crossing what may soon be another German expansion objective, the Polish Corridor.)

UNDER PRESSURE

KAUNAS (AP)—The Republic of Lithuania surrendered Memel, the seaport she acquired after the Great War, to the advancing German Reich today in answer to what semi-official sources said was a threat her entire state would be taken over if she did not comply.

German storm troop formations and Memel Nazis at once began taking over public buildings, the radio station and other posts in the city of Memel, which has been Lithuania's only port.

The regular troops of the German army, however, apparently had not then crossed the frontier.

The Lithuanian parliament in an emergency session this morning approved the cession of Memel.

Thus Germany got back a Baltic seaport she lost under the Treaty of Versailles and Lithuania was left without one.

"CRUEL CHOICE"

The semi-official newspaper Lietuvos Aidas said: "In the face of dire necessity, Lithuania was placed before the cruel dilemma—either transfer Memel to Germany or endanger the independence of the entire state."

Arguing that the best possible course had been followed in capitulating to German pressure, the newspaper said:

"The German demand was based on force and Lithuania must heroically submit."

The first news of the German demands was published only this morning in Kaunas papers which appeared with blank spaces indicating the withdrawal of a propaganda ministry communique issued last night.

The communique was later disavowed by the government.

SWASTIKA DISPLAYED

Nazi swastikas appeared everywhere in Memel and the German population hailed the news of the surrender with great joy.

Lithuanians were plunged into gloom. In Kaunas they congregated in little groups on street corners. Some of them were weeping.

BOMB THREAT

An Exchange Telegraph Agency dispatch from Warsaw to London said Germany had threatened aerial bombardment of Kaunas unless a propaganda ministry communique was withdrawn last night. The communique said no change in Memel's status could be made until consultation with foreign powers which in 1924 guaranteed Memel's integrity—Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany tried to get the Lithuanian foreign minister, Jozas Urbysas, to sign a document making his nation a "protectorate" of Germany as Bohemia-Moravia became after Czechoslovakia's dissolution, the dispatch asserted. Urbysas refused, saying he was without authority to make such a sweeping commitment.)

Three Arrested During Break-in

Shot Fired as B.C. Police Squad Surprises Men Removing Safe

Three men arrested by provincial police last night as they attempted to remove a safe from the Catholic Rectory at Nanaimo appeared in Nanaimo police court this morning charged with breaking and entering. They were remanded eight days without plea.

The men were: Jack Smith, 24, Mill Street; Thomas Ganderton, 26, Selby Street; and Joseph Brou, alias Brushynski, 26, Nicol Street. Police said Smith and Brushynski had only lived in Nanaimo about a year while Ganderton was a native son there.

The arrest of the three men rewarded patient efforts of the B.C. Police during recent weeks to apprehend thieves who have for some time been breaking and entering various Nanaimo premises.

Last night at 8:45, as a result of the vigilance maintained, police were apprised of the break in to the home of Rev. Lewis McLellan on Wallace Street.

Inspector Robert Owens of Victoria, with Sgt. J. Russell, N.C.O. in charge at Nanaimo, and Constables A. H. Gunn, B. Calhoun, H. Dobney and Detective G. "Monty" Armstrong of Victoria, surrounded the premises.

Police reported Smith and Brushynski rushed for the front door, into the arms of Constable Gunn, when presence of the officers became known, while Ganderton rushed for a rear window. When he was partly through the window Inspector Owens fired a shot into the floor and the trio immediately surrendered.

Police said the men were attempting to remove the safe in the rectory when surprised.

BRITISH COMMONS TOLD ABOUT MEMEL

Military Threat Brought Surrender to Germany, Says Hoare

LONDON (AP)—The British government said Germany had threatened little Lithuania with action "in a military sense" if she refused to surrender Memel to her today.

Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, made it clear in the House of Commons the British government's information was that if Lithuania had rejected a Nazi ultimatum Germany intended to occupy all of Lithuania, not Memel alone.

Speaking as substitute for Prime Minister Chamberlain, Sir Samuel said: "The Lithuanian minister for foreign affairs, who was recently in Berlin, received while there demands of the German government for immediate cession of Memelland to the Reich, coupled with a threat that in the event of resistance or appeal for support elsewhere, the matter would be dealt with not diplomatically but in a military sense."

CAUSES LAUGHTER

Dealing with the German threat to Lithuania, Sir Samuel said the Lithuanian government "were told that if they accepted the ultimatum no further demands would be made."

At this statement opposition members broke into laughter. The Home Secretary continued: "The Lithuanian government did not communicate with the British government."

"The Lithuanian government were required to make a decision within four days."

QUESTIONS ON ROUMANIA

Replying to questions on Roumania, Sir Samuel said "the Roumanian government have officially denied there has been any ultimatum from the German government."

"At the same time the uncertainty of the present situation is causing the Roumanian government to take certain precautionary measures."

Sir Samuel replied to questions after a meeting of the British cabinet at which it was decided to take no action because of Germany's acquisition of Memel.

Mrs. W. L. Phelps Dies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Mrs. Annabel Hubbard Phelps, wife of Dr. William Lyon Phelps of Yale University, died suddenly at her home here today.

Mrs. Phelps was married to the famous college professor, author and critic on December 1, 1892.

Charcoal Automobile

TOKIO—Emperor Hirohito has purchased a charcoal-burning automobile to conform with the national campaign to save gasoline.

CZECH WARPLANES ESCAPE GERMAN

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Express, Independent, yesterday reported about 1,000 Czech warplanes had landed in Poland, Roumania, Yugoslavia and Russia since Chancellor Hitler's troops occupied Czechoslovakia.

The pilots defied orders given by President Emil Hacha that all war material must be surrendered to the Germans.

"Most of them," the newspaper stated, "left Czechoslovakia on Wednesday just before the German occupation and fought their way over the frontier through a blizzard."

"Inspection by German air fleet officers of large oil depots on the Prague airport revealed that immediately after the Czech planes had taken off, air holes were bored through concrete walls, letting the fuel ooze into the earth."

NO CONSCRIPTION FOR BRITAIN

Hoare Says Move To Match Germany Decided Against

LONDON (CP)—Sir Samuel Hoare indicated in the Commons today the government had decided against conscription to match Germany's growing military might.

A questioner asked if such a step would be taken "in view of the attitude of Germany in southeastern Europe, which menaces the ultimate security of this country."

"I am not satisfied that in the present circumstances the establishment of a national register would add anything substantial to the steps already taken," said the Home Secretary.

While Mr. Chamberlain received opposition leaders in his private room in the House of Commons, Rt. Hon. Clement Attlee, Labor; Rt. Hon. Arthur Greenwood, Labor; and Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal, discussed the international situation with the Premier.

Asked if he would consider the advisability of increasing police forces in the British Cameroons, former German colony, Colonial Secretary Malcolm MacDonald replied: "Yes."

Vancouver Grain Hearing Uproar

Session Adjourned After Telford and Farris in Dispute

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Board of Grain Commissioners' morning hearing was adjourned in confusion here today, with Mayor Lyle Telford and Wendell Farris, K.C., counsel for the commission, facing each other across the room, and a member of the audience rising from his seat to reprimand Mr. Farris for criticizing the mayor.

Chairman E. B. Ramsay ended the disturbance by announcing adjournment until 2:30. It is expected hearings will end today.

Mr. Farris—precipitated the disturbance by complimenting the chairman on the "extreme patience" he had shown in conducting the investigation into malpractice charges which Mayor Telford has leveled against the grain trade.

"These charges reflect seriously on the port of Vancouver," said Mr. Farris. "I regret that in this inquiry you haven't received from the chief magistrate and the citizens of Vancouver the courtesy to which you were entitled, sir."

"I think you have well realized you are dealing with a peculiar individual."

Mayor Telford was on his feet waving his hand and protesting to the commissioners. Several members of the audience and lawyers at the counsel table shouted at him to sit down.

An unidentified man in the second row struggled to his feet. "Mr. Farris," he began. "This is our mayor and I think he's entitled to a little respect."

Mr. Ramsay promptly adjourned the meeting.

No Hospital Strikes

QUEBEC (CP)—On division, the Quebec Legislative Assembly approved yesterday a measure to prohibit strikes in any of the province's hospitals or institutions aided by Quebec public assistance funds.

In explanation of the measure, Premier Duplessis said: "Hospitals play an important role, and their work cannot be classified with any other. By strikes we cannot deprive the sick and infirm of care necessary to maintain life. The province has similar laws for police and firemen and I think it is a good law that is before the House now."

Canada Looks for British Sincerity

Support Depends On Genuineness of Efforts, Says Guardian

MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP)—Havas—The Manchester Guardian today said the support likely to be given by Canada and other Dominions to British efforts to resist German aggression depends largely on the sincerity with which this country pursues its efforts to organize collective security.

"The Australian prime minister quickly assured the British government of Australia's wholehearted support," it continued. "Eire keeps quiet, but Prime Minister Eamon de Valera stated the inevitability of her position clearly enough."

"South Africa temporizes and although the mass opinion is for a strong British policy the sentiment for neutrality is too powerful to be overcome in a moment."

"In Canada the government has been more definite. Prime Minister Mackenzie King has announced that Canada would likely regard an attack on Great Britain as an act of aggression menacing freedom in all parts of the British Commonwealth, but added that if it were a case of dispute on trade or prestige in some far corner of the world that would raise quite a different consideration."

"The declaration is an interesting one, for although it might seem to commit Canada pretty far, it also retains the right of Canada's freedom of decision on which Mr. Mackenzie King always has insisted."

"It is pretty certain that in Canada and in all other Dominions the support for Britain will rise in proportion as the British government pursues a genuinely collective policy and not merely a selfish imperialistic one. The decision will be determined by events."

Insurance Rate On Royal Visit Up

LONDON (CP)—Reflecting the nervousness and uncertainties engendered by the latest international crisis, Lloyds underwriters now quote a premium of 25 guineas per cent for insurance against cancellation of the Royal Visit to Canada.

"The declaration is an interesting one, for although it might seem to commit Canada pretty far, it also retains the right of Canada's freedom of decision on which Mr. Mackenzie King always has insisted."

"It is pretty certain that in Canada and in all other Dominions the support for Britain will rise in proportion as the British government pursues a genuinely collective policy and not merely a selfish imperialistic one. The decision will be determined by events."

GERMAN TROOPS MOVE INTO MEMEL

Powerful Units at Border Bridge as Hitler Approaches Area

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

BERLIN—Adolf Hitler set out this afternoon to visit in triumph his newest acquisition, the Baltic Sea district of Memel which Lithuania relinquished this morning.

The Fuehrer boarded the 10,000-ton pocket battleship Deutschland at Swinemunde.

Units of the powerful German army stood ready to cross the international bridge at Tilsit, East Prussia, to be on hand somewhat ahead of the Chancellor.

Three Lithuanian cabinet ministers arrived by airplane in Berlin at 5:45 p.m., today (8:45 a.m., P.S.T.), to arrange with Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop the details of Memel's transfer back to Germany and give it legal form.

This is Hitler's second triumphal journey in a week. On March 15 he rode into Prague, to take that ancient capital of Bohemia-Moravia under his protection.

Squads of bombers and pursuit planes also were ready to fly over Memel, the district of 1,089 square miles and 150,000 mostly German inhabitants over which Lithuania had sovereignty since 1923.

Nazis expected Hitler would be received in Memel as a liberator. The Lithuanian decision to cede Memel to Germany was characterized as the "only expedient solution for conciliation" by the official German news agency.

Concern was expressed in Poland, which next to Lithuania, is most vitally affected by the new German acquisition, both because of her proximity to the territory and because of implications for Danzig, which lies at the head of the Polish corridor separating East Prussia from the rest of Germany.

COUNCIL MEET SUGGESTED LEAGUE

LONDON (AP)—Great Britain is considering the possibility of calling a special meeting of the Council of the League of Nations to consider Germany's march toward European domination, Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare told the House of Commons today.

Sir Samuel substituted for Prime Minister Chamberlain in replying to questions following a meeting of the cabinet at which it was decided to take no action because of Germany's acquisition of Memel.

In reply to Philip Noel-Baker, Labor, the Home Secretary said he had no information "regarding statements that 20,000 Czechs were now in concentration camps."

C.I.O. NOT BREAKING UP, SAYS LEWIS

Will Not Dissolve Itself to Permit Union With A.F.L.

NEW YORK (AP)—John L. Lewis firmly declared himself today against any dissolution of the Congress of Industrial Organizations "as the price for labor unity" in the United States.

"The C.I.O. and its many organizations," he shouted in an address to 350 delegates to a tri-district anthracite conference, "do not propose to dissolve themselves and cut themselves up into a multitude of pieces as the quid pro quo of becoming associated with the American Federation of Labor."

Referring to the renewal of peace parleys with the American Federation of Labor at Washington, D.C., on Friday, Lewis declared:

"If peace comes, well and good. Labor will be the beneficiary and the country will rejoice."

"If peace on an honorable basis fails to come, then the C.I.O. will change its policy."

"If peace comes, well and good. Labor will be the beneficiary and the country will rejoice."

Evidence at Tobacco Hearing

Minutes of Jobbers' Meetings Read at Edmonton Combine Trial

EDMONTON (CP)—An excerpt from the minutes of the Western Canada Jobbers' Association's fourth annual conference, held in Winnipeg in May, 1932, was read into evidence by Crown Prosecutor H. J. Wilson as the preliminary hearing of charges against 44 private and incorporated tobacco manufacturers and dealers continued in police court here today.

In discussing the importance of co-operation, said the excerpt, it was decided that "our very financial existence is dependent on that little word 'co-operate,' especially at present when so many cut-throat artists and hold-up men are abroad."

Another document filed as evidence by the crown prosecutor dealt with a meeting of the Southern Alberta Confectionery and Tobacco Jobbers' Association in Calgary in November, 1934. Minutes of the meeting said J. M. O'Brien, sales manager of Imperial Tobacco Sales Company of Canada Limited, explained to members a "new tobacco agreement" in detail.

VERSAILLES TREATY BLAMED BY ITALY

ROME (AP)—The Fascist Grand Council issued a statement today which said in part:

"The council, in the face of the threatened formation of a 'united front' of the democracies associated with Bolshevism directed against the authoritarian states—a united front which is not the harbinger of peace but of war—declares that what has happened in central Europe has its origin in the Versailles Treaty and reaffirms especially in this moment its full adherence to the policy of the Rome-Berlin axis."

BOYS ENTERTAINED BY KIWANIS CLUB

Clubmen Hosts to Young Men; Rev. A. E.
Whitehouse Gives Message

The Kiwanis Club last night entertained the younger generation at a dinner in Spencer's dining room when the clubmen played hosts to their sons and present and former members of the club's boys' group.

A stirring message was given the young men by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, who said the world was waiting to fit boys into places where they were qualified. He warned them against being deluded into the belief the world owed them a living, but said opportunity awaited any boy with character.

The value of the club's work in character building was referred to by Mr. Whitehouse and received his compliments.

Appreciation of the physical training course and holidays at Y.M.C.A. summer camps afforded the boys was voiced by Stephen Corley, president of the boys' group.

Vivian Shoemaker, boys' work secretary of the Y.M.C.A., outlined summer camp activities.

The evening's program was arranged by the boys' work committee under T. Percy Waters, who acted as master of ceremonies. Austin I. Curtis, president, thanked Mr. Whitehouse for his remarks and also Frank Paulding, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and Mr. Shoemaker, for their co-operation in the boys' work undertaken by the club.

William Harkness, "the Canadian Houdini"; J. J. Matheson, vocalist, and Harry Douglas, who led community singing, contributed to the entertainment.

Assassination Attempt

TOKIO (AP)—A Domei (Japanese news agency) dispatch from Hanoi, French Indo-China, Tuesday said three Chinese gunmen attempted to assassinate Wang Ching-wei, former president of the executive yuan (premier) of the central Chinese government.

Wang escaped, but his secretary and three other persons were wounded. The gunmen fled. (Wang, leader of a now suppressed peace faction in the Chinese government, fled from Chungking in January.)

Esquimalt Tax Rate Unchanged

Kept at 41 Mills Over
Objection of Reeve
And 2 Others

A 1939 tax rate unchanged from the 1938 figure of 41 mills on land and 50 per cent of improvements was voted by the Esquimalt Council at a special meeting last night over objections of Reeve Alexander Lockley and two councillors.

The reeve and councillors R. G. Humphreys and G. R. Guillemaud stood out for a one mill reduction as a means of giving strength to a new demand for Esquimalt property which they said was just beginning.

Councillor Thomas Hatfield, chairman of the council's finance committee, however, said an increase in the rate had only been prevented by a surplus at the beginning of the year.

The council approved all the year's estimates except for details of public works expenditures which will be debated at a meeting next Monday evening.

The budget is based on an 85 per cent collection. The value of the mill shows an increase for the first time in 10 years, with each mill producing $1,895 this year against $1,881 in 1938.

The schools' share of the total rate is one mill higher at 14.66 mills. Debt accounts for 2.71 mills, fractionally down from last year's figure of 2.74 mills, and the general rate is 23.63 mills against 24.60 last year.

An 85 per cent collection would give the municipality a tax revenue of $66,062.70 for the year. The estimates approved last night and those for the schools and the police department, approved at an earlier meeting, totaled $52,834.35, leaving $13,228.35 for the public works department.

An item for the expenses of the Royal Visit, contained in the original draft of the estimates, presented by the finance committee, was canceled, but the sundries and contingencies figure was fattened by $1,500 to cover decorations and other costs.

Salary increases totaling $150 a year were given by the municipal office staff.

An item of $624 for the municipality's share in the cost of relief for unemployables is listed separately in this year's estimates. The donations fund, out of which unemployables were cared for last year, has nevertheless had to be boosted to $3,500 compared with $3,008 spent in 1938 because of increased demands.

The net cost of unemployment relief, excluding unemployables, is listed at $1,000, against $606.92 spent last year.

The allocations for public health, street lighting and fire department operation costs, the other major items in the general estimates, are substantially the same as last year. The cost of superannuation is up from $834 to an estimated $975.

SENATE DEBATE ON FILM BOARD

OTTAWA (CP)—The government bill to co-ordinate motion picture activities of government departments through a national film board, already passed by the House of Commons, ran into a full-dress debate in the Senate last night with declarations from the opposition that the bill means an expensive addition to the cost of government.

Senator Arthur Meighen, opposition leader, believed the government should have its motion picture work done by commercial companies instead of appointing another commission and another batch of civil servants. Business in Canada was stagnant because so many commissions had increased taxation, he argued.

Senator Raoul Dandurand, government leader, defended the bill as a progressive measure to make the government publicity picture service more efficient and economical. The government motion picture bureau was a great education force, he thought.

Sensor James Murdoch, Liberal, Ontario, adjourned the debate.

Lord's Day Act

OTTAWA (CP)—A bill to amend the Lord's Day Act to enable the attorney-general of the provinces to prosecute officers and directors of companies violating the act's regulations concerning work on Sunday was rejected by the Senate last night when the opposition voted down a motion for second reading 21 to 11.

Sensor Meighen and Senator C. C. Ballantyne, Conservative, Quebec, pointed out the same measure had been before the chamber for several sessions and Senate amendments had been continually rejected by the House of Commons. They thought it was time the bill should be dealt with decisively.

B.C. NATIVE SONS PLAN CONVENTION

To Be Held Here
April 14 and 15 With 70 Delegates Expected

More than 70 delegates are expected at the Grand Post convention of the Native Sons of British Columbia to be held here on April 14 and 15, W. J. V. Church, chief factor, announced today.

At a recent meeting of Post No. 1, Native Sons of British Columbia, plans were made for business sessions and entertainment for the two-day conference.

At 7 that evening, the convention banquet will be held for delegates, visitors, members of Victoria posts, Native Sons and Daughters and escorts, to be followed by an invitation dance.

On Saturday morning the session will start at 9:30 again, and at 12:15 the regular service at the Cenotaph. A luncheon will follow the service, starting at 1. At 3:30, the same afternoon, there will be a joint installation ceremony for the respective Grand Posts of Native Sons and Daughters.

During the local meeting, Mr. Church welcomed L. H. Hobbs as a new member, being transferred from Post No. 4, New Westminster.

Patent Laws Debated By M.P.'s

Commons Hears
Changes Suggested as U.S. Treaty Discussed

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Finance, obtained approval for a large block of the tariff items in the Canada-United States trade agreement while the Commons was in committee of ways and means yesterday. The items passed included the controversial farm implement schedules, which led to a brief east-west flurry.

On an item reducing the duty on cream separators to 12½ per cent, the rate common to most farm machinery, J. T. Thorson, Liberal, Seikirk, Man., expressed the hope the duty would soon be removed altogether.

This provoked John R. MacNicol, Conservative, Toronto-Davenport, who protested at what he termed persistent attacks by western members on the industries and industrial employment in eastern Canada at a time when the east was "bled white" contributing to relief in western Canada.

PATENT DISCUSSIONS

An overhauling of the statute under which patent holders can interfere with importation of articles patented in Canada, was urged by two Conservatives, W. K. Esling and Hon. H. H. Stevens, representing Kootenay West and East, respectively.

Mr. Esling complained those who brought in certain appliances from the United States were prosecuted by Canadian patent owners. Reductions in the tariff on such articles invited Canadians to infringe the patent laws.

The Minister of Finance said this was particularly true of radios and tubes, on which the Tariff Board conducted an inquiry.

Mr. Stevens said it was not proper a patent holder should have any rights beyond collection of royalties and manufacture of the article concerned.

He claimed patent rights were used to maintain prices for certain products in Canada at levels far out of line with the prices prevailing in other countries.

He urged the government to instruct the National Research Council to make a complete inquiry into the effect of all patents effective in Canada.

Generally speaking the Canadian iron and steel industry has not been taking advantage of the tariff protection it enjoys to keep prices up, Mr. Dunning told members in reply to Joseph Harris, Conservative, Toronto-Danforth, who criticized reductions in the tariff on iron and steel.

Japanese Spy Mania

LONDON (AP)—Great Britain has accused Japanese police authorities of being subject to a "spy mania."

Answering a Japanese protest against alleged ill treatment of Japanese nationals in Singapore, a British note handed to Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu on March 18 said Singapore police, who raided Japanese establishments, had proof Japanese intended to undertake action "prejudicial to the colony and calculated for the breach of peace."

The note, which was disclosed yesterday, invited comparison between protective measures taken in Singapore, a part of the British Straits Settlements, and

Day of Rest for Vice-Regal Pair

Governor-General and Lady Tweedsmuir Enjoying Holiday Here

Delighted with Victoria's brilliant spring weather, Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Tweedsmuir today enjoyed their first day of complete rest and relaxation in several months.

At Government House, where they are the guests of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, they did exactly as they pleased, with no social or official engagements to fill for the first time since Christmas.

They proceeded, after a leisurely breakfast, to enjoy the beauty of Government House grounds. La Tweedsmuir sat in the warm sunshine and admired the view spread below Government House. In walking shoes she poked about the grounds of the house, talking with the gardeners and seeing what is to be done there for the visit of the King and Queen in May.

His Excellency read morning papers to catch up on world news, attended to some business and then walked in the sunshine, before luncheon.

It was possible Her Excellency may visit the business portion of the city before the day is over as she had some personal shopping to do.

Luncheon was a quiet affair at Government House today. This evening at dinner His Honor and Mrs. Hamber have invited a number of Victorians to meet Their Excellencies.

Several hundred persons gathered at the C.P.R. docks to greet the Governor-General and his lady as they arrived yesterday afternoon. As they walked from the gangway to a Government House limousine there was applause. His Excellency, in a brown overcoat, lifted his hat and Lady Tweedsmuir smiled and waved her hand.

They were greeted at the dock by His Honor, Capt. V. G. Brodeur, commander-in-charge at the Esquimalt Naval Barracks; Hon. Frank MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, representing the provincial government, and A. M. D. Fairbairn.

They drove immediately to Government House, where Mrs. Hamber greeted them at the main entrance.

King and President At London Banquet

British and French
Friendship Toasted
At State Event

LONDON (CP)—King George VI and President Albert Lebrun of France, toasted Anglo-French friendship in speeches stressing mutual "ideals of justice and freedom" at a brilliant state banquet in Buckingham Palace last night.

The French President and Madame Lebrun are on a state visit repaying that made to Paris last summer by the King and Queen.

The King, drinking to the health of President and Madame Lebrun, said:

"I firmly believe the co-operation of our two governments has rendered and will continue to render a great service to the cause of peace."

President Lebrun in replying declared the harmony between Paris and London "symbolizes the friendship of two empires whose territories are neighbors on so many points of the world and whose moral frontiers bleed together."

King George, wearing the full dress uniform of an Admiral of the Fleet, told his guest:

"Thirty-five years ago your country and mine discovered that as geography had made them neighbors, so Providence intended them to be close friends."

King George and the President sat together at the centre of the big horseshoe-shaped mahogany table in the famed white and gold ballroom.

Queen Elizabeth, who sat next to President Lebrun, wore a diamond tiara and a gown of white satin and lace trimmed with pearls and gold.

Grouped about were the French Foreign Minister, Georges Bonnet; Prime Minister Chamberlain and his cabinet, and the diplomatic corps. The guests totaled 195.

After the banquet the King and Queen held a reception to which several hundred guests were invited to meet President and Madame Lebrun.

MacNEIL AIRS LABOR DISPUTE

OTTAWA (CP)—Presenting a detailed account of the dispute between the Pacific Lime Company of Blubber Bay, B.C., and its employees, C. Grant MacNeil, C.C.F., Vancouver North, told the House of Commons last night the company had "used its power to intimidate employees and influenced provincial law enforcement officers to put the strikers at a disadvantage."

Discussing the bill of J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, designed to amend the Criminal Code so companies would be prevented interfering with the rights of employees to organize, Mr. MacNeil cited the Blubber Bay case as an instance of powerful companies blocking union activities. The bill was talked out during the hour devoted to private bills.

Relations between the lime company and its employees constituted "a sad chapter in the industrial history of British Columbia," Mr. MacNeil said. When the dispute between the men who desired to organize and the company brought on a strike, he said provincial police were brought in to intimidate the men. One police officer had been arrested for assaulting a striker after he had been placed in detention.

The present law which gives men the right to organize into unions was being violated by corporations powerful enough to enforce their will and influence law enforcement, Mr. MacNeil said. He urged the amendment designed to provide punishment for those who dismiss employees because of their association with a trade union.

Victorian Shares in $1,000,000 Estate

VANCOUVER (CP)—Relations in Vancouver and Victoria and organizations in eastern Canada will share approximately $1,000,000 under the will of Mrs. Lily Leveque, which has been filed in Supreme Court here for probate.

The Canadian poetess, founder of the first branch of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire in British Columbia, died at her home here last October 17.

Nephews, nieces and a sister will receive $137,307 each as residuary legatees under the will. In addition to the residuary amounts, Lilias Taafé Leask of Cobble Hill, B.C., will receive $2,221; F. J. Plunkett Gibson, Cobble Hill, $1,521, and a sister, Mrs. Anne G. Gibson, Victoria, $1,291.

The Sisters of Providence, Kingston, Ont., were bequeathed $2,000; the Grey Sisters, Pembroke, Ont. $10,000 and the Redemptorists of Vancouver $5,000.

4 British Fliers Killed

NORTHAMPTON, Eng. (CP-Havas)—Three Royal Air Force fliers were killed today when a bomber crashed near Kettering during a snowstorm. The victims were Pilot Officer D. Shine, Sergeant Willis and Pilot Officer H. G. Lewis.

GOSPORT (CP-Havas)—Lieut. D. D. O'Brien was killed yesterday when the plane he was piloting crashed at Gosport airfield. Sub-Lieut. C. H. C. O'Rourke, a passenger in the plane, was slightly injured. Both men were attached to the Royal Air Force unit here.

Plane Production

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Premier Joseph Lyons Tuesday announced the government's approval of a British air mission's scheme to establish an Australian air craft production industry.

The air mission which made a survey here is expected to recommend expansion of the existing industry to produce 400 planes annually in peacetime and more than 1,000 annually in war time. The mission was headed by Sir Hardman Lever, who last year led a similar mission to Canada.

Adolf Hitler Marches On

FACED WITH THE KNOWLEDGE THAT hesitation would mean force, the government of Lithuania this morning presented Reichsfuehrer Hitler with the Memel area of that country—which was German before the Great War—with a notation on the "deed of gift" that its people will defend any attempt to seize further territory in their domain. Nobody will be surprised at this latest move by the Berlin oligarchy. The world had been fully prepared for it. Nor will anything be done about it. It will be charged to the "appeasement account" in the continental European ledger.

What did come as a surprise this morning, however, was an announcement from Reykjavik that Germany had demanded the right to build air bases on the island of Iceland as a matter of right under old treaties. Premier Jonasson has replied that the country could not grant concessions to the Reich which it does not accord to other nations. Beyond this simple statement he was evidently not inclined to go; the German cruiser Emden is due to visit Reykjavik shortly, and an opportunity will then be taken to discuss the issue.

Iceland is a sovereign state associated with Denmark, under the Act of Union of November 30, 1918. Its present constitution is embodied in a charter by the terms of which the executive power belongs to the King, and is exercised by him through responsible ministers. It should be noted, incidentally, that an advisory Danish-Icelandic committee of eight members has been appointed to review bills of importance to both states, and also to prepare measures for closer co-operation between them. After December 31, 1940, the Danish Parliament and the Icelandic Legislature "may demand" negotiations be opened concerning the revision of the Union Act.

While there is nothing exciting in a recital of this association of two democratic states, the demand made upon Iceland, coupled with Nazi penetration in Denmark—to which we referred in these columns yesterday—may have sinister significance in the light of what has transpired in continental Europe in recent days. Iceland's coast is 542 miles from the coast of Scotland, a little more than 1,000 miles from London, and about 1,500 miles from the coast of Labrador. And it is less than 1,000 miles from Germany's reformed Heilgoland.

It does not do these days to pooh-pooh Hitlerian dreams of political and territorial conquest. Nor does this mean because some of the Reichsfuehrer's dreams have been realized in cold fact that a rude awakening is still afar off. But it is more apparent than ever that there is hardly any limit to the extent the man, who continues to add tens of thousands of people and thousands of acres to the nation under his iron control, will go in his attempts to complete the program laid down in "Mein Kampf."

Herr Hitler's sudden manifestation of practical interest in the strategic position of Iceland, moreover, would appear to imply that he is not leaving out of his calculations a possible challenge to the British Navy. For unless there is to be a new policy of "appeasement" to prevent war at any price, no government at Westminster dare permit the establishment of German air bases in that part of the North Atlantic. Meanwhile, however, Adolf Hitler Marches On.

That Was Our View

EIGHTEEN DAYS BEFORE THE FOUR-power conference concluded the Czechoslovakian "deal" at Munich last September 30 we began an editorial in this column with the following sentences:

"When The Times (London) last week suggested that Czechoslovakia might cede that part of its territory occupied by the Sudeten Germans to the Reich, to prevent war, it gave Reichsfuehrer Hitler and his Nazi celebrants in Nuremberg more encouragement to make greater demands on the war-born republic than most people realize. . . . It may be expected that the last has not been heard of the great London newspaper's suggested 'carving' of a sovereign state, for the maintenance of whose territorial and political integrity Great Britain is as definitely pledged on moral grounds as if she had subscribed to a treaty guaranteeing armed assistance in case of Czechoslovakia's deliberate despoliation by another nation."

That was our opinion on September 12, 1938, and the course of events has shown that we did not overstate the case. And it is especially interesting to note that the same London newspaper—the present government's journalistic mouthpiece—asked this question the other day: "Who believes that this week's fantastic essay in the obsolete, this militaristic triumph of reaction, can survive?"

The echo answers: Who knows?

Boy Cooks

IN THESE COLUMNS THE OTHER DAY we recorded a visit of the Parliamentary Secretary of the British Board of Education to a Sussex village school and getting a good square meal, cooked by the young pupils, for which, if the official in question had been asked to pay, the charge would not have exceeded six cents. We headed the paragraph: "One for Dr. Weir." It was not intended, of course, as a critical comparison of public educational policy, but merely to emphasize the practical nature of the tuition in out-of-the-way places in Britain. We are now informed—and it is interesting to know—that in the Vancouver Technical School a class of boy cooks is a three-year-old institution, pardonably boasting the production of table fare that will stand up against anything anywhere else in quality and cost to institutional consumer. And it is in order to congratulate Vancouver on its wisdom in establishing a technical school, where boys may be trained as cooks for mining and logging camps, for canneries, trains and boats. Victoria passed up its chance to get a similar addition to its educational system several years ago.

A Confederation Anniversary

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND WILL BE IN the limelight next summer, when the 75th anniversary of the first meeting of Canadian delegates whose deliberations led to Confederation will be celebrated during the week of July 17-23.

On September 1, 1864, 15 delegates, five from each of the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, met in the council chamber in the Parliament Building in Charlottetown to discuss the idea of a Maritime union. The government of Canada (Upper and Lower Canada) heard of this meeting and asked and obtained permission to join in the deliberations. At the smaller scheme of a Maritime union was abandoned for a larger one which called for the confederation of all the provinces of Canada. Following several days' discussion the meeting adjourned and met again at Quebec on October 10 of the same year. A series of resolutions passed formed the basis of the British North America Act.

The anniversary, as is fitting, will be commemorated officially. Professor D. C. Harvey, Halifax, one of the Maritime representatives on the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada, has announced that the board has seven tablets to the Fathers of Confederation in preparation. Five of these will be erected in Charlottetown, one in Summerside, P.E.I., and one in Georgetown, P.E.I. Efforts were being made to have the tablets finished in time to be unveiled at the celebration next summer. The festivities will take on the national character they should. Among those who will be invited to attend are the Governor-General, the Prime Minister of Canada and the lieutenant-governors and premiers of the provinces of Canada.

Why Teeth Decay

OF THE TWO HUMAN MISERIES which afflict practically every member of our species—the common cold and the decayed tooth—science knows less than it does about many gorgeously complicated diseases. Most of us have long ago resigned ourselves to taking hot drinks for colds and to showing each other our new inflays with an imbecile joy. One learns to live with these two visitations, as with relatives.

Now come two men of science, the brothers Belding, one a doctor and one a dentist, to say it need not be so, at least about tooth decay. They announce the discovery of the cause of dental caries ($2 word for a hole in a tooth) and its probable cure. According to the Beldings, a streptococcus which they have isolated causes tooth decay. It feeds upon certain elements in certain cereal foods. If the cereal foods could be treated, by fermentation, to remove these elements, tooth decay might disappear. The brothers point out that tooth decay is entirely absent among people who subsist on a meat diet or on fruits and tubers.

We will, of course, wait and see, advising all not to change their diets until there is substantial corroboration of these interesting reports. As veterans of many food fads—we who have avoided red meats to keep blood pressure down, kept away from sweets to save our teeth, kept away from rich foods in order to get roughage, kept away from roughage to avoid stomach ulcers—we are going to take our time. In fact, we are going out to lunch.

A magistrate rules that an onion could be considered as fruit. A decision which was not in odor.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PAYS IN FULL

Premier Pattullo's government may have its financial worries, but it is evident that it believes in doing business in the orthodox way. When it borrows money it makes arrangements so that the loan may be redeemed at maturity, according to pledge. In proof of this good financial conduct it may be pointed out that on the fourth of this month the provincial treasury retired a $3,000,000 20-year loan of 5 1/2 per cent debentures, paying cash at New York and elsewhere.

Hon. John Hart, the treasurer, announces that the retirement was met from some $2,200,000 held in sinking funds against the issue, and by a balance of approximately $700,000 in cash from current revenue in the fiscal year now closing. The money in question was borrowed by British Columbia on March 5, 1919, for general purposes, and, as already stated, is now paid back in full and punctually. The province's gross debt is lessened by the amount and in the matter of interest, of course, there is also quite a saving. Other maturities totaling about $5,300,000 will fall due by the middle of next July, and arrangements are being made to pay off the indebtedness then, according to Hon. Mr. Hart. This all adds to the good name of the province, and a good name is very useful in these troubled times. The borrower who meets obligations when they are due may borrow again when need arises and on fair terms. Premier Aberhart, in neighboring Alberta, may be looking over the interprovincial boundary with a bit of envy, if not regret.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

HONEST MAN

WHAT I CAN NEVER UNDERSTAND in all the present excitements and alarms, is why everybody is so surprised at the final extinction of Czechoslovakia. Apparently most people are not cynical like the low crowd I consort with. We never had any doubt, here and in Ottawa, that Czechoslovakia was finished off by Munich, that Hitler would walk in whenever he felt the need of exercise.

A good many eminent persons shared that cynical view. On October 5 last Mr. Winston Churchill said: "At any moment there may be an order from Herr Goebbels to start again his propaganda of calumny and lies. At any moment incidents may be provoked, and now that the fortress line has been turned, what reserve is there to stop the will of the conquerors? . . . I think the future of the Czechoslovak state cannot be maintained. You will find in a period of time that might be measured by years or months, that Czechoslovakia will be engulfed in the Nazi regime."

And Lord Robert Cecil said: "But supposing there is a German guarantee, what is its value? It is not necessary to accuse Germany of perfidy. Not only the Nazi government but all previous German governments from the time of Frederick the Great downwards have made their position perfectly clear. To them an international assurance is no more than a statement of present intention. It has no absolute validity for the future."

What one just can't understand is why Mr. Chamberlain should have believed Hitler's promise to guarantee Czechoslovakia.

The cynics assumed, of course, that Mr. Chamberlain didn't really believe it, but thought the only thing to do was to let Hitler go still further east after Munich if he wanted to. This theory has been generally accepted in these parts. And when Mr. Chamberlain had practically nothing to say last week in Parliament after the extinction of Czechoslovakia it seemed to confirm the notion that Hitler had been given a free hand. Then at Birmingham Mr. Chamberlain shatters the entire notion and says he believed Hitler and counted on him making good his promises.

The whole thing is quite amazing. It turns out that Mr. Chamberlain was too honorable an English gentleman. He expected others to be gentlemen, too, and Hitler turns out to be no gent. I never thought he was, with that mustache and seaweed hair.

AS TO FIGHTING

THIS IS NOT TO RIDICULE Mr. Chamberlain. He can defend Munich on other grounds, of course. But that he should have believed Hitler, that he should have thought Hitler would stop at Sudetenland is beyond the limited comprehension of the cynical people in these parts. Especially as Hitler had written in his book all details of his program to conquer Europe.

I don't believe most Canadians thought this country should fight to save Czechoslovakia. I don't believe they want to fight to save Roumania or any nation in Europe. They are interested only when Britain is involved. But they will have no real decision in this question of war and peace.

As soon as Britain is involved this country will be in it, and, as Capt. John Silver used to say, you can lay to that. It doesn't matter about the constitutional questions, or what the politicians may say about consulting Parliament or anything else. This country's basic foreign policy at present comes from London and from Washington in about equal parts. The fact that the United States, under Roosevelt, is moving rapidly towards the British foreign policy doubles the drag on ours towards Europe.

But in Ottawa no man in authority whom I talked to expects the war, if it comes, to be like the last one. Mr. Bennett said publicly before he left that he didn't expect to see any large Canadian expeditionary force sent overseas. He was out of office and could talk. The men in office can't talk so loudly, but they are of the same mind. They do not plan to send a big expeditionary force to any European war, whether it comes now or later. Canada's main job will be to supply materials and armaments. This is understood and agreed upon between Ottawa and London.

In Australia the other day, Stanley Bruce, who is Australia's first statesman, said virtually the same thing—that Australia's job is not to send overseas expeditions but to look after her own protection.

That is the thing we have to realize, but which old notions usually hide from us—Britain is not in a position now to protect her whole Empire. She is busy at home. Australia has been told bluntly by Mr. Bruce to be ready to protect itself. The same thing applies to Canada. Fortunately for us, we have the United States beside us, so that Canadians can sleep a trifle more comfortably in their beds than Australians, who have no American navy between them and Japan.

However, it is easy to talk before war comes. The present policy is plain, but you never know what would happen in a war, if it were prolonged. The present government's policy might be superseded by the policy of another government. It is always open for the Canadian people to decide whether they want to send armies to fight in Europe or not. And what all this has got to do with this particular column, I can't imagine.

NATURE'S SECRETS

Democritus said: "That the truth of nature lieth hid in certain deep mines and caves."—Sir Francis Bacon (1560-1626).

Nazi Objectives

ONE OF THE recent Headline Books, the excellent 25-cent pamphlet published by the Foreign Policy Association, is "Shadow Over Europe: The Challenge of Nazi Germany," by Shepard Stone. It is a concise and extremely clear account of recent German history, including the rise of National Socialism, the annexation of Austria and the Sudetenland and the Hitler program for expansion in South-eastern Europe. Included are 17 graphic maps by Emil Herlin, some drawn after the Munich agreement.

For an average reader who may be hazy about such things as provisions of the Versailles Treaty, the territory Russia surrendered under the Brest-Litovsk Treaty or what countries lie in the shadow of Hitler's drive to the east, Mr. Stone has provided a workable background for a more intelligent understanding of the most important news in the world today.

IN NAZI SCHOOLS

Although one could quote at length from the tightly-packed little pamphlet, this struck me particularly:

"If you were to go into a German schoolroom you would see on the wall a large colored map showing where the different peoples and races of Europe live. One color, bright red, covering a big section of the map, would catch your eye; from the key you would learn that the red stands for Germans. Looking at the map carefully, you would notice that the red spills over the German frontiers and covers some of the territory of the Reich's neighbors. In addition, here and there you would see isolated splashes of red among the other colors. The general impression you'd get would be that the boundaries of present-day Germany have been drawn in such a way as to leave millions of Germans outside their Fatherland."

That map doesn't hang on the walls of German schools—and of many other buildings in Germany—for nothing. It carries a message to the German people—young and old. . . . That map conveys the most dangerous message in Europe today. . . .

NAZIS GOING COMMUNIST

From B.C. Financial Times
Economic considerations are now regarded as the chief cause even though based on anti-Semitic prejudices. It is becoming widely felt that when all Jewish resources have been sequestered, then the Nazi will proceed against the wealth of the Roman Catholic Church and the Lutheran foundations. The fierce opposition to the anti-communist policy to one of almost identity. The Hitler regime is fast going Communist. It is anti-religious, anti-racial and, becoming, anti-capitalist. The weakening of the principle of private property and private contract cannot proceed much further before German business will fully realize the direction of Nazi action. An internal revolution is in its incipient stages.

CANCER LOSING SOME OF ITS TERRORS

From Ottawa Journal
The Health League of Canada tells us of statistics of the London Cancer Clinic quoted recently by Lady Barrett, a noted English doctor. She said that "of early cancer cases treated five years ago 83 per cent are alive and well today; of patients treated later when the disease was more advanced 65 per cent still survive; of all the patients treated 35 per cent were alive and well at the end of five years." The moral is drawn that if patients can be induced to seek treatment when the disease is in its early stages there is a very good hope of complete cure.

WOMEN WHO LIKE TO OBEY

From Halifax Chronicle
The results show that 59 per cent of all American women object to the word "obey" in the marriage ceremony. But this is not the case in staid Puritan New England, where the condition is reversed and 55 per cent of the women want husbands who will boss them around and make them mind. But, if a majority of American women object to obeying their husbands, the position is reversed when the male in the case is their boss. The survey shows 85 per cent would rather work for a man than a woman.

TO A PARENTHESIS

Una W. Harsen in the New York Sun
A comma indicates a pause for breath. A plethora of words or an omission. A semicolon promises an end. But lacks the period's fine decision. A question mark clears the mind of some confusion. While explanations dissipate emotion. But you, parenthesis, you are a rover! Within your arms you hold those errant thoughts, Those unrelated deeds And unplanned episodes Which lift our lives above The deadliness of prose.

PARLIAMENTARY MANNERS

J. B. McGeachy, From London, in Winnipeg Free Press

Lady Astor, at a recent suffragettes' meeting to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the vote, spoke about the improvement in House of Commons manners since women got into it. When she first arrived in the House, she said, members used to howl like hyenas when displeased, and they weren't very civil to her when she wanted to talk.

As to that I have no knowledge, but from recent observation I would say the House is still no Chesterfieldian club. The members may have stopped howling like hyenas but now they bay like mastiffs. As for their attitude to Lady Astor, if she calls that good manners she must have been brought up in a barn.

They put their feet on tables in her company and they hoot when she tries to speak. She sits directly behind Winston Churchill and Winston, urbane though he may be, is one member who will stand no nonsense from her. When she interrupted him the other day, he turned and replied directly with a remark which did not reach the galleries but must have been a beauty because the noble lady was heard no more.

Others besides Lady Astor say that the House is tamer than it used to be—they say so with regret—but one used to the politeness of Canadian assemblies is likely to find the mother of parliaments uproarious and to ask with Stephen Leacock: "What's come over mother?" The answer is that the members are consciously trying to uphold the English tradition of tough behavior, now completely dead in the field of foreign policy.

This is illustrated in the way they treat their timid members and others lacking the parliamentary flair. They either laugh or walk out with ruthless speed when these performers get going. Even holding a distinguished place doesn't save a member from this sort of indignity.

SAANICH'S SWEATED POLICE

To the Editor:—According to recent reports the members of the Saanich Police force are seeking a "raise." This is unique, as the men are merely asking for the restoration of a wage cut they received a number of years ago. All other police departments in and around Victoria have long since been restored to a standard wage. This force is the lowest paid in the province.

It seems grossly unfair and unjust that these men should be on duty 144 hours every week, when almost every other line of endeavor is subject to minimum-hours-and-wages regulations. It is not uncommon for members of this force to be on the road or engaged in investigations for 15 consecutive hours in a day, then report for duty at the municipal hall at 9 a.m. the following morning. Each of these men are off duty 24 hours per week. The remaining 144 hours they must always be within reach of the public. This means that these men must be stationed at their homes or the municipal hall at all times. It is also a fact that, despite the almost phenomenal growth of Saanich in the past nine years, there has been no increase in the personnel of the force, and I do not hesitate to say that the police work has increased 200% in this period.

Surely it is the duty of those elected by the people to seek the people's best interest in all things. In this day and age the responsibilities of a police force for the proper protection of the properties, peace and even lives of the residents are great ones. While it is true that any shortcomings or faults in a police department are always magnified and quickly brought to the attention of the public, it is also true that a police department rarely receives commendation for duties honestly and fearlessly carried out.

MRS. SUND of 10 Elaine Court, McDermot Avenue, Winnipeg, is very enthusiastic about the many uses of mustard as a family remedy. Going to her pantry, she brought out the mustard tin and said she would not be without it in her home.

About a year ago, her daughter Mary had a bad cold, which left her with a sore back, shot through with sharp pains. After using a number of remedies without avail, she tried a mustard poultice. This had such good results that a second and a third were applied and, after the third, the pain disappeared completely. Before applying a poultice of mustard, Mrs. Sund always rubs the part lightly with pure lard. This allows the mustard to stimulate circulation and do its healing work, without burning the skin.

A POULTICE GOES ON FIRST

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sund, who, of course, have great faith in their family doctor, smilingly told of his invariable advice when they call up about any of the family who are down with a chest cold. "Put on a mustard poultice," are his first words. "And I'll be around in the morning."

Mrs. Sund boasts that her mother and her mother's mother always relied on mustard for many purposes, and it was from their experiences she learned to use it. It is wise to get in touch with your doctor at the first sign of a bad general cold and, if he cannot come at once, take a hot mustard bath and stay in bed. Two or three tablespoons of dry mustard mixed with a little cold water, and added to the tub, will stimulate circulation and begin the work of throwing off the cold. If the cold is in the chest, take Mrs. Sund's advice and stop it with a poultice.

SAFE AND ECONOMICAL

Mustard is safe and economical for many ailments. It only costs a cent or two to mix enough with a little cold water for a poultice, a hot foot bath or a tub bath to check colds, relieve aches and pains or induce sleep. A mustard bath stimulates circulation, cleanses the pores and has a medicinal effect that is amazing. Write to Colman-Keen (Canada) Limited, Montreal, for free booklet describing its medicinal uses and giving the correct proportions for preparing it.

Order an extra tin for the bathroom, and be sure to insist upon Colman's Mustard, the brand that is famous all over the world for its quality, purity and strength.

MAGIC KITCHEN TO BE EXHIBITED HERE

B.C. Electric Railway Co. Will Provide Feature Starting March 23

Public demonstrations of the "Magic Kitchen" which was featured at the Canadian National Exhibition and which is en route to the 1939 World's Fair at San Francisco, will be given in Victoria from March 23 to March 30 at the B.C. Electric Railway Company's Douglas Street store. Literally coming to life, the "Magic Kitchen" which has aroused keen interest in eastern Canada, features nine minutes of spirited and sparkling repartee and action. "At the outset, visitors will see an old-fashioned kitchen replete with antiquated cook stove, wooden ice box, crazy sink and other pieces of equipment which were modern when grandmother was a girl.

Before the eyes of the spectators the scene gradually changes. The old ice-box gives way to a modern refrigerator, but the intruder is made a target for critical sarcasm from the remaining members of the old kitchen family. After the newcomer has "hit back" and emphasized its many advanced features and conveniences, the ancient wood-burning stove yields its place to a glistening new electric range which is also bitterly maligned by the "boys of the old brigade." Time and progress steadily march on, however, effectively silencing the scornful critics.

Eventually the drab old-fashioned kitchen is completely transformed into a modern electrical kitchen. Demonstrations of the "Magic Kitchen" have been both interesting and helpful to many home owners who have taken advantage of the Home Improvement Plan to modernize their homes and who have enlisted the services of the Free Kitchen Planning Bureau.

Sixteenth century armor sometimes had fantastic touches, such as a helmet shaped like a lion's head now treasured at the Metropolitan Museum.

Confederation Report

OTTAWA (CP)—The report of the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations probably will not be completed before July. Prime Minister King so informed the House of Commons yesterday. At one time it had been hoped to get the report in by Easter, but additional work has been found necessary. The Sudan in Africa is the world's leading source of gum arabic.

Early Morning Best Time To Be Born

NEW YORK—Early in the morning is the safest time to be born, it is revealed by a study of the hours of birth and of newborn deaths here.

The peak of newborn baby deaths occurs between 3 and 6 in the afternoon, Dr. J. Yerushalmi of the division of Maternity, Infancy and Child Hygiene, New York State Department of Health, reported to the Society of Research in Child Development.

Two possible explanations for this "dangerous hour" were considered by Dr. Yerushalmi. It may be that the birth processes start during the night or early morning, in which case the births occurring during late afternoon would be mainly those in which labor had been prolonged and difficult.

The second possibility was suggested by an obstetrician when he said that "during the later afternoon hours there may be more operative interference and a greater use of pituitrin because of the fact that most physicians are particularly busy at this time, either at their offices or in making rounds of their different patients. In the early morning hours, on the other hand, they are perhaps slower to terminate any given case owing to the courage it takes to get out of bed at such time."

Resort to operations and the use of forceps actually does follow a curve very similar to that of the infant deaths. Dr. Yerushalmi found. Again the peak is between 3 and 6 p.m. Nevertheless, this correlation does not necessarily indicate any cause-effect relation between them, he warned.

CALLISTER-LAIRD

In the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends, the marriage was quietly solemnized this afternoon at 2:30 at the First United Church by Rev. Hugh McLeod of Mary Ann Ruth, fourth daughter of Mrs. M. Laird, of 3020 Jutland Road, and the late Mr. A. Laird of Victoria, and Mr. Maxwell Conley Callister of Duncan, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. Callister of Victoria.

Mr. Alec Laird gave his sister in marriage. She was attractively gowned in French blue georgette fashioned with a long full skirt and a shirred bodice, with a three-quarter length-sleeved jacket. She wore a smart Allah turban of the georgette, with a wimple, and carried a shower bouquet of Talsman roses, white carnations and freesia.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Lillian Laird of Nanaimo, whose frock was of orchid pink georgette, with a shirred bolero, while her floral hat, had a shoulder veil of silk net to match her frock. Her bouquet was composed of pink carnations. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Harry Marston.

Plum blossom and daffodils had been arranged in the church by friends of the bride for the ceremony. Mr. G. H. Peaker, the organist, rendered the wedding music and accompanied Miss Genevieve Knapp, who sang "Promise You".

A small reception was afterwards held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Laird, who wore a dress of navy blue lace, with hat to match, adorned with a floral crown in mauve, purple and blue and who was assisted in welcoming the guests by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. A. J. Maynard, whose frock was of blue-grey lace and her hat a black straw. They each wore corsage bouquets of pink roses.

Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table centred with the three-tier wedding cake, flanked with tall lighted ivory tapers in silver holders, and vases of sweet peas.

The bride and bridegroom left on the afternoon boat for Seattle on their way to Portland, and on their return will make their home at Duncan. For traveling the bride wore a tailored two-piece suit of sea-green pin-striped cloth, a smart hat to match, and a mink-marmot fur coat.

Miss Cannelly of Nanaimo came down for the wedding and is staying with Mrs. Laird, Jutland Road.

BUTCHER-THOMAS

A marriage of interest to many on the mainland and on Vancouver Island took place in Nanaimo on Sunday, March 19, at St. Paul's Church, when Rev. Canon H. V. Hitchcock united in matrimony Dorine Pearl Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan E. Luce of Port Alberni, and Mr. Uridge Ernest Butcher of Nanaimo, son of Mrs. A. Butcher of Linden Avenue, Victoria, and Mr. H. U. Butcher of Vancouver.

The bride, gowned in a rose-beige frock with cranberry-colored straw hat and a corsage of roses, was attended by her cousin, Miss Evelyn Drummond, of Vancouver. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Walter Thomas of Port Alberni, brother of the bride.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Doherty, Westley Street, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Butcher left to spend a honeymoon in the Sound cities and will shortly make their home in Nanaimo. A number of guests from Vancouver, Victoria and Port Alberni were in Nanaimo for the ceremony.

Changing Status of Chinese Women Reviewed

Mrs. Edna Booth of Shanghai Speaks To Soroptomist Club

A comparison of the Chinese woman of the old regime with her more modern sister was drawn by Mrs. Edna Booth, a former Victorian who is revisiting here after many years' residence in Shanghai, at the monthly dinner meeting of the Soroptomist Club held last night at the Zeland tea-rooms.

In speaking of the women of China, Mrs. Booth noted that as recently as 1905, no provision was made in China for the education of women. But within the space of 15 years after that more than 400,000 girls were attending Chinese schools, and a few years later several Chinese women were occupying chairs in universities. Today there were in China four colleges for women only, viz., the Gin Ling College at Nanking, Hwa Nan Methodist College at Foochow, the Women's Christian Medical College at West Gate, Shanghai, and the Government Normal College at Tientsin.

In comparing the changed status of Chinese women, Mrs. Booth quoted freely from a number of well-known Chinese women's biographies which are held in high regard, including "Nu Chieh" ("Precepts for Women"), which had been translated by Florence Ascoug and embodied in her "Chinese Women, Yesterday and Today."

The social customs of a bygone age were also reviewed by the speaker to show that in ancient China neither the man or woman was inferior, neither was superior; they were equal, but with strict differentiation of function, both important. The girls of the better class in that era were not uneducated, learning music, painting, poetry and literature, but most emphasis was laid on the domestic arts.

Under Chiang Kai-shek's regime, the woman's position had shown marked improvement. Under the Manchus the sexes after 10 years of age were strictly separated until such time as they were betrothed and married, today they mingled freely at dances, in playing games and on many other business and social occasions. Concubinage, once the custom, was now illegal. The Chinese

"I am Going Through 'THE TRYING PERIOD' IN A WOMAN'S LIFE"

"I am going through 'the trying period' in a woman's life—but thanks to Phyllosan tablets, I feel surprisingly fit. I have almost finished my second bottle, and I must say that my nervousness, my fatigue and my giddy headaches are relieved. I am 49, and look and feel splendidly fit."

(Original letter can be inspected on application.)

MORE and more women are learning that they can go through the trying period without suffering "nerves", dizziness, fatigue, harrowing mental discomfort. They are taking advantage of the famous vitalizing potentialities of PHYLLOSAN to help keep splendidly fit—and "youthful" both in looks and spirit. Thousands are using this simple, effective means to help avoid premature old age.

The product of brilliant scientific research by Dr. E. Buegi, Professor of Medicine at the University of Berne, Switzerland, Phyllosan is recognized as a remarkable, vitalizing and reconditioning agent, and is prescribed by many physicians to persons of all ages. Phyllosan contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, no stimulants, no animal extracts. A preparation whose primary ingredient comes from purely natural sources, Phyllosan co-operates with the natural processes of your body to help enrich and invigorate your blood, strengthen your nerves, rebuild your vital powers. The beneficial effects are lasting.

If you are just beginning to feel the past-forty let-down and the nervous and physical disturbances typical of this period—or if you have for some years been suffering the fatigue, dizzy headaches, upset nerves and mental depression due to change of life... we believe that Phyllosan can be of great benefit to you. As it has served others, so Phyllosan can help you go happily through 'the difficult years.'

Phyllosan is easy to take. Just two tiny tablets three times a day (before meals). Yet use this simple, effective vitalizing agent regularly and you will probably be surprised and gratified by a day-by-day gain in energy, vigour, steadiness of nerve, and general cheerfulness.

Buy Phyllosan (pronounced Fill-O-San) tablets at your druggist's... 85¢ ($1.50 for double quantity).

St. Joseph's Nurse Given Air Job

Miss Margaret Beeber Chosen By TCA as Stewardess

Miss Margaret Jean Beeber, R.N., of Bassano, Alta., a graduate of the 1938 nursing class of St. Joseph's Hospital, was among the 16 girls chosen for an air stewardess job under the Trans-Canada Airways recently. Her many Victoria friends will be interested in the following item from a paper published at Bassano, Alta., recently:

"Margaret Jean Beeber, R.N., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Beeber, left Calgary Tuesday evening for Winnipeg, where she will receive a two weeks' training course prior to entering the Trans-Canada Airways, as an air stewardess."

"Miss Beeber was born in Bassano in August 1917, and has gained a host of friends in town and surrounding district in the years she resided here. Receiving her public and high school education in Bassano she entered training in St. Joseph's Hospital at Victoria, B.C., graduating in the spring of 1938."

"A lover of sports Miss Beeber took an active part in tennis, golf, swimming and skating, as well as being an ardent fan at all hockey and baseball games. At school she excelled in all her studies and was always among those chosen to act at any of the school functions."

"The sincere good wishes of the community will follow her in her new adventure and the best of luck and 'Happy Landings' is extended by all who knew her."

Better Than Gump

BIRMINGHAM, Eng.—Quoting the proverb "who supps with the Devil must have a long spoon," Viscountess Gladstone, president of the Women's Liberal Association, suggested here Premier Neville Chamberlain should take that culinary utensil with him in place of his celebrated umbrella.

The Sherwood Auxiliary W.M.S. met in Belmont United Church on Thursday. The president, Mrs. John Hall, presided. Mrs. W. J. Sargent led the devotional period. Reports from the various departments were received and progress noted. Miss Isabel Macintosh, a retired missionary from China, now a resident of this city, gave an address, illustrated by graphic pictures of conditions among the Chinese people. A social hour followed. Mrs. F. Simm and Mrs. Alma Vey were joint hostesses.

All young, all pretty, and all thrilled with it all are these eight embryo and one already qualified stewardesses of Trans-Canada Airlines who debarked from the Winnipeg plane at Toronto. They were on their first "familiarization flight." Left to right, front row, they are: Miss Florence Shanahan, Winnipeg; Miss Dorothy Price, Toronto; Chief Stewardess Lucile Garner, Regina; Miss Sheila Neil, Winnipeg. Second row: Miss Patricia McNamara, Toronto; Miss Gerald Brunelle, Montreal; Miss Margaret Beeber, former Victorian. Top row: Miss Marcelle Levac, Montreal, and Miss Constance Halbeck, Lethbridge.

Found Husband By Trail of Soap

Spanish Refugees In France Clamor For Cleanliness

PERPIGNAN (CP)—French nurses, student doctors and others from Paris have been giving of their vacation time to help the refugees pouring over the border from Spain into this French frontier district, as the civil war closes in Spain.

"What is your greatest problem?" they were asked.

"Soap," was the unanimous reply.

"When 100,000 half-famished and exhausted men forget their hunger and cold to ask first for 'soap,' you have an idea of the misery these men have suffered merely from dirt and vermin since they started their retreat 60 days ago."

"The moment they get a cake of it and clean themselves up a little, they feel like men again and their appetite and morale returns. Half the difficulties of discipline are solved. It's more precious than gold."

One woman visitor to a concentration camp carried an enormous basket filled with chunks of Marseilles laundry soap. She was looking for her husband and each day she visited a different camp, somehow getting past the guards—probably cajoling one of them with a piece of soap.

"I took bread and chocolate the first day," she said. "The men nearly pulled me to pieces demanding soap."

"So I take as much as I can and they all promise to inquire among themselves for my husband, but it takes time among 180,000 men, and more arriving every minute."

When she arrived at a barbed-wire enclosure at Aries-sur-Tech she gave a shout. There her husband stood waiting. A piece of soap had found him.

Barbara Mead was one of only four American women presented to King George and Queen Mary at the first royal court of the season in Buckingham Palace under U.S. Ambassador Kennedy's restrictive ruling. She is the daughter of Frank Mead, of Old Greenwich, Conn., now in business in London.

Clubwomen's News

Esquimalt W.I. will hold the fortnightly 500 party Thursday evening in St. Paul's Parish Hall at 8.15, with prizes and refreshments.

The weekly meeting of the Victoria Citadel Home League will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Oriental Home, 732 Cormorant Street, at the invitation of Miss Laurie, the superintendent. Last Thursday evening a large crowd gathered at the citadel for the Shamrock concert and tea sponsored by the home league. Adjutant Watt presided and Very Rev. S. H. Elliott, Dean of Columbia, gave an address that was much appreciated. Messrs. Dunn contributed solos and a duet and the Elizabethan Singers a group of songs that gave great pleasure.

Mrs. F. R. Moore gave an interesting address on "The Untouchables" of India to the W.M.S. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at their monthly meeting Monday afternoon. Miss A. Mortimer and Mrs. Fallows led the devotional period. Mrs. F. Allott, president, was in the chair, and arrangements were made for the sending of delegates to the annual provincial meeting to be held in Vancouver early in April. Mrs. T. R. Douglas and Mrs. A. M. Boyd served tea at the social hour, which followed the meeting.

The Gleaners' Mission Circle held their monthly meeting in the form of a birthday gathering at the home of the honorary president, Mrs. McLennan, with the president, Jean Wilson, in the chair. Miss Marion Mitchell rendered two vocal solos, and the worship service was led by Jean Munro and Helen Peaker. The president welcomed the mothers and guests. Dr. Henrietta Anderson gave an inspiring message. The Mizpah benediction brought the business meeting to a close. Refreshments were served from a dainty table centred with plum-blossoms, daffodils and narcissi. Mrs. Bowles and Mrs. MacLeod presided at the coffee and tea urn. Members of the circle assisted in serving. The next meeting will be held at the home of Cora Wharton.

At the meeting of the Metropolitan W.M.S. held Monday afternoon in the schoolroom, with the president, Mrs. W. H. Muncy, in the chair, the speaker was Miss Isabel McIntosh, retired missionary, who spent many years in Wei-Wei, China. She gave many reminiscences of her work and, with the assistance of Miss Helen McLellan, in costume, showed how contact was made between the missionary and the Chinese women. She also displayed many beautiful pieces of embroidery and carved jade. Mrs. A. E. Akhurst, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Jones and Rev. Mrs. Sawyer, led the service of worship. Miss Hazel Sargent reviewed a chapter of the study book under the heading "Planting the Church in Canada." This planting was not begun until after the British got control of Canada, less than 200 years ago. The chief "gardeners" were Rev. Mr. McCallum, Rev. John Macdougall and Rev. James Robertson. On Friday evening the Mission Circle, C.G.I.T. and Associated Helpers are to be guests of the senior auxiliaries at a banquet, after which the circle and C.G.I.T. will present the program, consisting of a pageant and musical numbers. An Easter pageant is also being prepared by the Mission Circle for the April meeting.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 35 to 40), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, ditty spells, upset nerves and moody moods. Just get more fresh air, 5 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life. Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

J. Adam Funeral Largely Attended

Rotarians Form Guard of Honor; Representatives of Many Bodies Present

St. Andrew's Cathedral was filled this morning for the requiem mass for the repose of the soul of James Adam, former alderman of the city, prominent Rotarian and well-known sports figure.

Rev. Father J. A. Gaudette said the funeral mass, while Bishop John C. Cody sat in the sanctuary with four priests.

The casket reposed before the High Altar, covered with its pall of black and gold and flanked by six tall burning tapers. There were no flowers in the church.

Members of the Rotary Club, headed by the president, G. Hamilton Harman, formed a guard of honor from the hearse to the cathedral doors. Among them were two former mayors, Herbert Anscomb, M.P., and J. Carl Pendray and the Minister of Labor, Hon. George S. Pearson.

Behind the Rotary Club a group of uniformed city firemen stood at attention.

Inside the cathedral was a body of uniformed nurses from St. Joseph's Hospital, of which Mr. Adam had been a director, and members of the Sisterhood of St. Ann.

The members of the City Council and their wives and heads of City Hall departments attended.

Representatives of the Dominions Basketball Club, of which Mr. Adam was a member, of the executive, and players of the team were present.

During the service Madame M. Griffith sang "Veni Jesu" (Cherubini) and "Pie Jesu" (Wiegand). Miss Marguerite McKay was at the organ and as the casket left the cathedral she played Schubert's "Ave Maria." Two extra cars were required to carry the wealth of floral tributes which testified to the general esteem in which Mr. Adam was held in all walks of life in Victoria.

The pallbearers were: Mayor Andrew McGavin, Frank J. Sehl, Herbert J. Pendray, Percy B. Scourah, H. A. Goward and Alex McDermot.

Vancouver Doctor Held Up in Home

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. R. J. Elvin, a city physician, told police he was held up and robbed of $20 as he sat talking with his wife in the sunroom of their home.

Dr. Elvin reported he heard a tapping on a window of the room. A moment later the pane was smashed and a masked gunman thrust an automatic through the opening and demanded money. The doctor handed over several bills and tried to snatch the gun from the bandit.

The man pulled the weapon forward, tearing his victim's hand on a piece of glass before he fled into the darkness.

The only national part is that as a missionary nation Israel is the humble servant of God, chosen for service and not for superiority or favoritism, she said.

Murder Trial Nearing Close

Wright Case Expected To Go to Jury Late This Afternoon

The case against R. A. Wright, charged with the murder of Dulele Hanham was scheduled to go to the jury late this afternoon.

Submission of evidence was completed this morning, with the defence presenting but one witness.

Addresses followed, P. J. Sinnott contending there was a complete lack of evidence connecting the accused with the crime. J. B. Clearhue, K.C., crown prosecutor, in his address, traced a chain of circumstances which, he submitted, was strong enough to justify the jury in bringing in a verdict of murder against Wright.

Court was adjourned at 12.30 with Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson announcing he would start the charge to the jury at 1.30.

A statement by Wright at the preliminary hearing was presented to the court this morning at the hearing, proving the document.

The document carried an explanation of a meeting between Wright and the deceased woman on the evening of January 27. He had, it stated, asked her to do certain work in cleaning up his Pembroke Street house. She had agreed to do that work and had left, according to Wright, to keep another appointment. He placed her departure shortly after the times stores closed. The document stated he was suffering from a headache and had taken two aspirins and a drink of rum when she left. After that, the accused's testimony read, he remembered nothing until he was in the hospital on January 30.

C. Harold Tait, defence witness, stated he had on January 29 visited the location where the body was found. The ground had been sodden and the road was virtually a sea of mud.

In cross-examination by Mr. Clearhue, he stated hundreds of people might have tramped over the ground between the time the body was discovered and his visit to the scene.

In his 35-minute address, Mr. Sinnott referred to the checkered life of the deceased, the fact that many people might have had reason to wish her death. He contended the only way the woman could have reached the spot where the body was found was by an automobile. His theory of the crime was that she had been attacked in such a car, brutally beaten and then dragged from it. A single unidentified hair on one of her gloves, he said, might prove the solution to the crime.

Defence counsel contended the "habbings" of the accused in the hospital were those of an irresponsible person. Wright, he said, had no grounds for jealousy. Purr's evidence, he suggested, was full of trivialities and "tittle-tattle."

Mr. Clearhue placed jealousy as the motive for the crime. Wright, he said, had been frantically in love with the deceased and when disillusioned, had decided in his frenzy to kill the woman and himself.

He cited the evidence supporting his case, showing that in Wright's plans for the disposal of his property, following his decision to commit suicide, he made no provision for Mrs. Hanham, the "woman he loved most." "He knew," counsel contended, "she would not be there."

Dealing with Wright's remarks in hospital, Mr. Clearhue noted the accused had stated, "I didn't do it." Had he been wandering in the woods since the preceding Saturday, counsel contended, he would not have known a crime had been committed.

Wright followed the arguments closely at certain points but read from what appeared to be a condensed Bible at others.

Twenty-five more applications for war veterans' pensions will be heard in Victoria before Lieutenant-General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., K.C.B., K.C.M.G., D.S.O., Ottawa, and Col. Cyrus W. Peck, V.C., D.S.O., Sidney, members of the Canadian Pension Commission, leave for interior points at the end of the week to hold further sittings.

On their previous sitting here early in February Sir Richard and Col. Peck heard 25 other cases and have since held sittings in Nanaimo and Vancouver. The Victoria hearings are being held in the Post Office Building, with G. H. Sedger, pension advocate for the Veterans' Bureau, representing the pensioners.

The commissioners will be occupied here until Saturday.

W. SCOTT'S BODY FOUND IN HARBOR

A body identified as that of Walter "Wally" Scott, 26, 2624 Douglas Street, missing from his home since February 11 last, was taken from the waters of the Inner Harbor by a tugboat captain this morning.

The body was found between the McMaster Horton Shingle Mill and the V.M.D. and taken ashore near the depot, where city police took charge. It was removed to Sands Mortuary.

Scott was well known in local baseball circles in the city, and his disappearance last month caused a wide search by police and friends. The body was badly decomposed as a result of having been in the water a considerable time.

All morning long reports were received in the Times newsrooms that three desperate criminals had been taken in by police, but inquiry proved this wrong.

One of the men was caught and taken into headquarters, where he was released after questioning. The other two were headed north when last seen," was the report from the city desk sergeant.

Veterans, Army Co-operating
Will Work Together On Matter of Lining Route of Procession
Co-operation with army authorities during the King's visit to Victoria was discussed by representative of all ex-servicemen's organizations at a meeting in the Naval Veterans' Branch of the Canadian Legion last night under the chairmanship of Alderman Stan Okell.

Lieut.-Col. C. E. Connolly, of M. D. 11, briefly outlined the measure of co-operation which could be effected between M. D. 11 and the veterans in the matter of lining the route to be followed by Their Majesties the King and Queen when they visit the city in May.

In order to put no undue hardship on the veterans by reason of their age, it was decided that the veterans should participate in route lining duties for the morning parade only.

Committees will be formed to work out all details of tentative arrangements laid down at this meeting, and it was felt necessary that registration of all veterans, both fit and unfit, should take place immediately. All ex-servicemen, therefore, are requested to register their names with the nearest veteran organization in order that rolls may be submitted to the District Council office of the Canadian Legion, 625 Courtney Street, for the consideration of the Central Committee before numbers are submitted to M. D. 11. It was arranged that this information should be sent to all branches throughout Vancouver Island in order that those branches may carry out a similar registration in their respective districts and in turn submit these returns to Victoria.

It was decided that the recognized headdress for veterans lining the route should be the beret of the type used for the Vimy Pilgrimage, with the recognized arm band now in process of manufacture.

The City Council was requested by the meeting to arrange for suitable space to accommodate wounded and infirm men and the Nursing Sisters in order that they may have an opportunity of seeing Their Majesties during the progress.

A later meeting will be held at which reports of committees will be received, and in the meantime all veterans are urged to indicate their willingness and capability of taking part in route lining duties.

BUCHMAN COMES FOR BIG DRIVE

Oxford Group Leaders Open MRA Campaign Across Canada and U.S.

NEW YORK—Dr. Frank Buchman, founder and leader of the Oxford Group and initiator of the current widespread movement for moral rearmament, and a party of 16, it is expected, with other leaders who will arrive later from Europe, to take part in a number of moral rearmament training centres that will be held during the next months, throughout United States and Canada.

Since his last visit to Canada in 1936, Dr. Buchman has traveled widely in Europe working with national leaders in England, Holland, France, Palestine, Sweden and other countries. During the early days of last year's September crisis he presided over a World Assembly for Moral Re-armament in Interlaken, Switzerland, which stimulated the present national moral rearmament campaign in England.

"It is the new thinking and the new leadership that everybody wants," Dr. Buchman told the press on arrival here. "Moral rearmament is a race with time for the remaking of men, of nations, and the world. We are the repair gang for a disabled world."

Dr. Buchman told of the remarkable response this program is having in England and which has received public support of former Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and other British statesmen, as well as labor leaders, business men, members of every party in parliament, and top-ranking sportsmen. "It was started that over 4,000,000 milk bottles, tops, 500,000 of 'Bunny' Austin's book, 'Moral Rearmament—the Battle for Peace,' and 10,000 large billboard posters have been used all over England in the last weeks urging the British public to enlist in moral rearmament."

"The posters and billboards were given free by business men," explained Dr. Buchman, "because they see that this program will bring a new confidence and a new unity. This may usher in a thousand years of peace, through bringing a new moral climate to the nation. It's a national movement in countries like Holland. It can be national over here. Why shouldn't national policy be guided by the principles of moral rearmament. It's something everybody understands. Everybody understands about being unselfish. Moral rearmament is like bread and water. Everybody wants it. Everybody needs it. It catches on in every nation because it's fundamental."

Commenting on world conditions, Dr. Buchman said: "The world is at the fraction stage, but you remember at school when we tried to solve fractions how we used to look up the answers in the back of the book. Well, moral rearmament is the answer in the back of the book. The answer is that we have got to change. We have got to have a change of heart individually and nationally. The first nation that does that will give an export to the other nations. It will bring us back to an age of sanity."

Asked about the connection of the Oxford Group to the program of moral rearmament, Dr. Buchman said, "An automobile has an engine. Well, the Oxford Group is the engine of moral rearmament. The Oxford Group is the motive power for remaking men and nations. It seeks to apply to national and international policy the standards of honesty, purity, love and unselfishness, and to make fulfillment of the will of God the touchstone of national life."

Wards Two and Seven, Saanich Conservative Association, held a joint meeting on Monday evening at the home of Mr. Butler. Two new members were received into Ward Two.

Third Mate to Yacht Command

Captain A. H. Frogbrook of Fantome Holds Coveted Ship-Berth

Three years ago he was running here as third mate of the Royal Mail refrigerator ship Nebraska.

Today, Capt. A. H. Frogbrook, commander of Hon. A. E. Guinness's luxury yacht Fantome, holds one of the most envied jobs in the business of navigation.

It might be said that he inherited the berth, for his father, Capt. H. E. Frogbrook, was sailing master for the Earl of Iveagh in his lifetime and is still master of the bark-rigged Fantome II, also owned by Mr. Guinness and now swinging at anchor at Cowes, Isle of Wight.

The master of the Fantome, which reached Victoria yesterday afternoon from Southampton, is only 35 years old and he considers himself fortunate in being entrusted with the command of this magnificent yacht. Probably nothing just like the Fantome has previously been seen in these waters. There is beauty in every line of the schooner-rigged, clipper-bowed craft. Her high poop deck, substantial companion ladders leading from the main deck, square side ports resembling the gun ports of a war frigate, her towering masts and clipper bow capped by golden eagle, lend a buccaneer atmosphere that strangely contrasts with the yacht's luxurious interior appointments.

It was the Duke of Westminster who had the vessel built to his order of British steel in an Italian shipyard. She was launched as the Flying Cloud by the Societa Anonima Cantieri Navali Orlando Livorno in 1927. When Mr. Guinness bought the yacht he renamed her Fantome.

Last year the owner took a party on a cruise of the Norwegian fjords and the year previous he visited Eastern Canada and the Great Lakes.

This voyage the Fantome made the voyage out from Southampton in 36 days with calls at West Indies, Central American and California ports.

Mr. Guinness and his guests crossed the Atlantic by the Queen Mary and flew across the continent from New York to San Francisco to join the yacht at the Golden Gate.

An idea of the size and speed of the Fantome is given by Capt. Frogbrook as follows: Official number, 149800; gross tonnage, 1,260; registered tonnage, 688; signal letters, GQCS; port of registry, Southampton; length overall, from end of bowsprit to taff rail, 257 feet; length, from stem to aft side of stern, 203.5 feet; beam, 38 feet; draft, 18 feet 6 inches; rig, auxiliary schooner, fore and aft; engines, twin-screw Atlas Polar Diesels, each of 750 horsepower; number of masts, four; eight of masts from truck to waterline, 128 feet; number of crew, 34.

The ship's officers are: W. H. Bohenna, chief officer; W. J. Rouse, second officer; G. F. Long, chief engineer; T. J. Walker, second engineer; L. A. Davis, third engineer; R. E. Stephens, fourth engineer; C. E. Mugliston, radio operator; and E. Sibley, chief steward.

The owner's quarters and guest suites, nine in all and each equipped with tilted bathroom, are located aft. The ultra-modernistic trend is followed in the furnishing of the suites, which are decorated in pastel shades. The dining saloon, seating a dozen guests, with massive divans flanking the after-end is located on the port side. The main lounge, fitting into the ship's center right stern, is a beautiful apartment upholstered in deep blue and featuring an open fireplace.

The deck lounge, with red and white decorative motif and approached by a wide stairway from the lower deck, is a restful rendezvous where many happy hours of complete relaxation are enjoyed by the voyaging guests.

The Fantome is scheduled to remain at Vancouver until June, and may possibly cruise to Alaska before returning to England.

Selling Topples Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—The European crisis kept Wall Street on edge today and another heavy selling shower swept the stock market into the lowest levels of the decline which started a week ago.

A swift but rather brief forenoon plunge carried many shares down 1 to about 5 points, quickly wiping out the modest gains which interrupted the downswing in the preceding session.

Selling lightened around midday but recovery was limited. Transactions, larger on the decline, increased to about 1,400,000 shares.

Down 3 to 5 or more at the height of the decline were such issues as U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Telephone, U.S. Rubber, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Chrysler and U.S. Gypsum. Losses were shaved on the midday comeback.

Also hard-pressed were General Motors, Goodyear, International Nickel, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Union Carbide and Sears-Roebuck.

At mid-afternoon the British pound was $4.68 1/2, down 1/4 cent, and the French franc held unchanged at 2.64 1/2 cents.

The Canadian dollar fell back. Losses of a point or so were boarded for McIntyre Porcupine, Hiram Walker and Distillers, while Canadian Pacific and Lake Shore showed fractional recessions. Canada 4s were under mild pressure.

Milk and Its Products

3—POWDERED AND CONDENSED MILK

Do you remember when I spoke of the "iron cow" I saw on an ocean steamer last year? It wasn't a real cow, but it turned water and milk powder into a drink which was spoken of as "milk."

Huge cream containers in a large dairy.

Milk powder can be made by heating milk, also by drying it. Some times rich, creamy milk is turned into powder, but powder from skimmed milk will stay in good condition for a longer time. When milk powder is well mixed with water, it may taste almost as good as fresh milk.

We may think of milk powder as a modern idea, but something like it was made in Asia long ago. Marco Polo, who lived before Columbus, told this about the Tartars of Asia:

"As a food supply for long trips, they prepare milk in this way: They boil the milk, and skim off the rich, creamy part when it rises to the top, and put it aside for butter. Then they place the rest of the milk in the sun to dry."

"When they start on a journey, they take with them 10 pounds (of the dried milk) for each man. Every morning, they put one-half pound in a leather bottle, with as much water as is needed. By the motion of riding the contents (of the leather bottle) are given a strong shaking, and a thin porridge is made. On this porridge, they make their dinner."

Today we have a special kind of milk powder known as malted milk. Besides dried milk, it contains malted barley and wheat flour.

The most common way of saving milk for a long time is by condensing it. The making of condensed or "evaporated" milk is a big industry.

Several kinds of machines are used to condense the milk. One kind has a tank about 10 feet high, from which much of the air has been pumped. Milk is drawn from a "hot well," and goes through a pipe into the tank. Hot coils inside the tank heat the milk to the boiling point.

Where there is a vacuum, milk or any other liquid will boil at a much lower point. In this case, the boiling point is only 1.30 degrees above zero Fahrenheit.

A great deal of splashing and spraying takes place inside the tank. The water vapor is drawn away through another pipe. At last the milk loses enough water to be called "condensed."

Milk treated in this way is condensed, but the common custom is to call it "evaporated." What we usually speak of as "condensed milk" is sweetened with sugar.

HOROSCOPE

Thursday March 23, 1939

After the early hours benefic aspects rule today, according to astrology. There is a forbidding sign for any sort of speculation.

The morning may be unfavorable for attempting changes or reforms. Suspicion of motives may be general among men and women of the great middle class. Whatever tends to build or develop established enterprises is well directed under this planetary government. It is a lucky day for civic improvements and for city planning.

College men and women will succeed in trades and in minor positions where trained hands as well as trained minds are useful. Social standards, long changing, will become adjusted as intelligence extends.

Growth of associations hostile to democracy will be rapid at this time, it is prophesied. Sporadic arrests of persons under suspicion will have an affect contrary to that desired by representatives of the law.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of advancement in which past labors will be rewarded. Both men and women should enjoy many happy days.

Children born on this day probably will be forceful and persistent in pursuing their careers. These subjects of Aries are usually self-reliant and courageous. Their lucky day is Tuesday.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I try to be a good husband. My wife is a good wife and a hard-working homemaker, but she has one fault that is eventually going to drive us to the divorce court. It is the slovenly way in which she runs the house and the fact that she does not even attempt to teach the children any manners. She prepares a good meal, but she slaps it down on the table helter-skelter and it is everybody for themselves. We have six boys from 13 years of age down and not one of them knows how to eat properly, but when I try to interfere and teach them some table etiquette she hits the ceiling and we get absolutely nowhere. What should I do? WORRIED HUSBAND.

Answer: Children have a natural inclination to eat like pigs. If your wife encourages them in feeding that way, I am afraid there is very little you can do about it. Possibly you can have some influence with the older ones by talking to them privately and making them understand that they will be rated more by their table manners than by anything else.

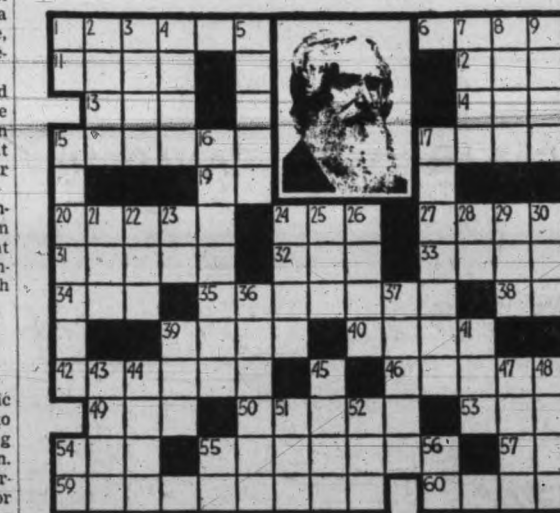

No matter how famous, how important, how clever a man is, it does not offset his not knowing his way among the silver. I often think of a very brilliant and witty after-dinner speaker I once knew whose eloquence was always overshadowed by the fact that he grasped his knife and fork as if he were about to dig a ditch with them instead of using them as table appointments.

Perhaps your wife is one of the optimistic and lazy women who think that some miracle will happen that will change untutored children into elegant gentlemen. But it never occurs. Children have to have good manners taught them in their childhood, or they never acquire them. It is only the children who have been brought up to believe that eating peas with a knife is a crime on a par with murder who ever have the perfect manners that come of habit. Certainly you should send your children away to school where they will be taught manners if their mother won't do it.

DEAR MISS DIX—How can lost time be regained? MARY W.

Answer: It can't. What's past is past and there is no recalling it. That is why it is so important that we should make the most of now and here.

Fatalities are lower but the number of accidents on British Columbia highways this year is greater than last year, B.C. motor vehicle branch said today.

Up to the end of February 12 people died in highway crashes, compared with 14 last year. The February toll was but two deaths, with 10 in January.

However, there had been 740 crashes reported to police compared with 730 last year, and 344 people injured—as against 307. Property damage totaled $70,389, against $66,783.

February alone showed an increase from 318 to 361 in number of accidents and from 129 to 171 in the number injured.

An increase of 3,000 in the number of cars traveling the roads is partly responsible for the increase.

For the present the effect of driving tests for motorists is not clearly apparent, officials said. The tests did not get under full swing until well into February and it may be a month or two before it is clearly demonstrated what value they have in reducing accidents.

Mrs. Paul Smith
Compliments John
Howard Society

At the annual meeting of the John Howard Society, Victoria branch, held in the Y.W.C.A. last evening, Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia, was re-elected to the office of president for the ensuing year.

The other officers were filled as follows: Vice-president, Rev. G. R. V. Bolster; case worker and treasurer, Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell; secretary, Mrs. Alan Campbell; executive, Rev. F. Comley, Dr. D. M. Baillie, Walter Miles and Monseigneur A. G. Baker. Five more names were to be added to the executive list.

Following the annual case report and financial state by Mrs. Mitchell, the president introduced Mrs. Paul Smith, M.P.F., as the speaker.

Mrs. Smith praised the work of the society, but hoped that one day its work would be to assist in the lessening of the jail population rather than to aid those who had already experienced sentences.

MORE CRIME IN CANADA

The crime situation in Canada was growing more serious, she said. Canada's population from 1900 to 1935 increased 107 per cent, she continued, but the crime in the Dominion during that time increased 500 per cent. From a survey conducted in 1935 it was found that 10 per cent of the inmates of penitentiaries were under 20 years. Fifty per cent were under 30 years.

The cause of crime should be attacked as well as efforts made to cure those who have fallen, Mrs. Smith said. As a further example of the outstanding crime situation in Canada the speaker noted that in England 29 per cent of every 100,000 of the population were in prison. In Australia 57 per cent of every 100,000 were in prison, but in Canada 114 per cent of every 100,000 were in prison.

"Through poverty and unemployment in the home, we have evidence of what will eventually become crime," the speaker said. The attacks that were being made by the church, service clubs and various other organizations and institutions were merely touching the problem.

PRISONS—SCHOOLS

Mrs. Smith spoke of prison conditions and expressed her views saying: "The prisons are schools of crime rather than institutions of change and correction." Before sending a young man or woman to prison, three plans should be first tried. They were, probation, foster homes and re-establishment of the individual's home. If these failed, then the person should be trained and reawakened in prison, not punished.

Each prisoner should be studied for his particular talent, and trained accordingly. A qualified leader should be in charge, not to act merely as a guard but as a teacher. The men in charge should be able to contribute something of good to the inmate.

In speaking of the recently organized "Neighborhood House" in Vancouver, Mrs. Smith urged that such a project be started in Victoria.

A vote of thanks was extended to the speaker by Mr. Comley on behalf of the members.

Rev. J. D. Hobden, general secretary of the John Howard Society, Vancouver, spoke briefly giving experience had in his work in prisons.

LOCAL WORK DONE

The report submitted by Mrs. Mitchell, which was lauded by the chairman and speakers, showed that from the beginning of May to the end of August of last year, 92 visits were paid to the local office of the society. From the beginning of September to the end of March there were 219 visits. Most of those who called were in need of food, clothing and shelter—and all in need of work.

In a few cases it was possible to supply a man with the essential tools of his trade to enable him to become self-supporting. Many men were aided medically.

The report showed appreciation of the Community Chest grant of $300 and also the Family Welfare Association for giving access to the society to their clothing department.

The financial statement gave a balance on hand of $3.55, and from this, the president raised the question that a larger donation might be asked, from the Community Chest.

Hear Child in Murder Trial

Georgina Hanham, 12
Years Old, Testifies as Wright Case Nears Close

Fair-haired, 12-year-old Georgina Hanham yesterday testified in the Assize Court trial in which R. A. Wright is charged with the hammer-razor slaying of her mother, Dulcie Track or Dulcie Hanham.

Georgina gave clear, intelligent answers in reply to questions by J. B. Clearhue, K.C., crown prosecutor, and Mr. Justice Robertson who is presiding over the case.

Her thin voice told the story of Mrs. Hanham's removal from the Wright house on December 30 and establishment of residence at Vining Street premises.

About two weeks before her mother was found killed Georgina had seen her in Wright's home and had hid the woman's shopping bag full of laundry belonging to another man, the witness stated. Mr. Wright, she added, had found the bag and its contents.

She identified a scarf found rolled up under the clothing of the deceased as one which had formerly belonged to Wright but which had been exchanged by him for another owned by Mrs. Hanham. The accused, the child said, had given Mrs. Hanham $20 for false teeth.

"LAST DRINK"

William Crooks, truck driver, opened the afternoon session yesterday, telling of a drink the accused had given him on the afternoon of January 27. "It may be the last you'll ever have with me," witness quoted Wright as saying. "You don't know my troubles. My woman's bothering me again."

Gordon Laird, Balfour House, stated he had seen the deceased about 5:45 that evening. She had left his premises shortly after 6, promising to return about 11 that night.

Jeannie Violet Foot, woman acquaintance of Mrs. Hanham, and the accused, stated Wright some time ago had threatened to take the woman's teeth from her because he had paid for them.

Arthur Thomas Purry, who lived intermittently with Wright since 1933 and had stayed with the accused and Mrs. Hanham in the Pembroke Street house from late last year until the tragedy, took the stand. He told a story of human passions, kindness and jealousies as he described Wright's activities.

The witness described arguments between the other two, the quarrel which led to Mrs. Hanham leaving the house to reside on Vining Street at the end of last year. Wright, he said, had been jealous of the man from whom the deceased had allegedly rented a room.

Dealing with events on January 15, he stated:

"The accused said he would not be here much longer, but that when he went he would not go alone. He'd cut her throat."

Since leaving the house, Mrs. Hanham had returned to spend an occasional night with the accused, the witness said.

On January 23 Wright had looked for a special hammer with a ball-shaped head. Two days later Mrs. Hanham had again come to spend the night with him. The following morning, witness stated, the accused and Mrs. Hanham breakfasted together. Wright had asked her if he would see her again that night as she prepared to leave the house. She had replied she did not know. That was the last time he saw her alive, he testified.

On January 27 Purry said he left the accused writing on a piece of discolored paper and went to town. Wright was absent from the Pembroke Street house when he got back in the evening and did not return that night. On January 28, while down town, he had seen a news bulletin announcing the discovery of the dead body of Mrs. Hanham and had gone to the police station, he stated. He stayed at the station that night and returned to the house on Sunday. He was there, he said, when Esquimalt police and city detectives came to make a search.

Wright, he said, shaved himself with a straight-edged razor. That instrument was missing when the search was made, he added.

In reply to question by P. J. Sinnott, defence counsel, Purry said the accused had been very fond of Mrs. Hanham and kind to her.

Tells Benefits
Of Credit Act

H. E. A. Courtney Says
Burdens of Farmers
And Soldiers Eased

The Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, approved by Parliament in 1934, has been the means of easing credit burdens on many farmers and returned soldiers, H. E. A. Courtney, official receiver under the act for the County of Victoria, told members of the Credit Granters' Association at their luncheon in Spencer's dining room yesterday.

Mr. Courtney reviewed the provisions of the act and the steps which he, as official receiver, was required to take when a farmer or soldier came to him for credit settlement. Soldiers formerly under the Soldier Settlement Act were given the option of coming under the later legislation, he explained.

The difference between the two, from the soldiers' viewpoint, was that the farmers' act permitted negotiations for reduction of total capital debt, which was not possible under the Soldier Settlement Act.

The act was aimed at re-establishing farmers who had been hard hit during depression years, and so far it had served both farmers and creditors satisfactorily, Mr. Courtney said.

His first step when approached by a farmer was to secure a list of his liabilities and productive assets then try and arrange an agreeable proposal for payment with the creditors. Failure to make such settlement would result in the case going before a board of review comprising a judge of the Supreme Court, a representative of the farmer and a creditors' representative. The board had final powers to arrange a settlement, he said.

Whenever an agreement was made by the receiver or board of review it was bound by a court order, he said.

The act applied on credits incurred before May 1, 1935, and, as far as farmers were concerned, would terminate on June 30, next, Mr. Courtney said.

Mr. Courtney was introduced

'Caddy' Snorted
Like Old Bull

Six People Report
Seeing Sea Serpent Along
Victoria Waterfront

Snorting like a bull, Cadborosaurus showed himself along the waterfront yesterday. Robert Woodley, 2466 The Esplanade, Oak Bay, was sitting on Willows Beach with Mrs. R. J. Roskilly, a visitor from Kimberley, B.C., when they saw "Caddy" rise out of the water 50 feet from them.

"We were first attracted by the big noise it made as it came out of the water and blew," Mr. Woodley said. "It was not more than 50 feet away when we first saw it and it played around on the rocks for several minutes before finally turning and heading for Jimmy Chicken Island."

We saw it come up 15 or 20 times. It appeared to me it could not stay long under water without coming up for air, and every time it did breathe the snort could be heard several hundred yards away."

Mr. Woodley described the head as resembling that of a bull, but being considerably larger. The color he described as being fawn, similar to that of a deer. He estimated "Caddy's" length at about 15 feet.

Later in the day, between 4 and 4.15, Mr. and Mrs. James Beale, 1159 Oxford Street, and another couple were standing on the rocks near the Royal Victoria Yacht Club when they saw "Caddy" rise out of the water about 150 yards away. They were also first attracted by the noise as the serpent took in air.

"It snorted like an old bull when we first heard it," Mr.

Beale said. "As it swam in towards the bay we would see a hump rise first, then the head as it undulated while traveling. It appeared to me to have the head of a big walrus and there was about 10 or 12 feet between the head and the hump."

Mr. and Mrs. Beale saw it rise and dive about half a dozen times before it finally disappeared from view.
